BOMBAY, May 29.—(By the United Press)—Thousands are reported to have perished in a heavy earthquake which shook the region about Turbat-i-Haidari, Persia, according to newspaper advices received here today from Allahabad. Numerous Persian villages were wrecked by the quake, dispatches to the newspaper Pioneer, state.

ALLAHABAD, PERSIA, May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Advices to the newspaper Pioneer, from Teheran, state that 1,000 persons have been killed by an earthquake at Turbat-i-haidari. The earth shocks covered a period of several hours. Many villages are said to have been devastated.

Turbat-i-haidari is a small Persian town in Khorassan, a north central province which forms part of the great Iranian Desert Plateau. The general elevation of the country is somewhat less than 2,000 feet and it is cut up into many fertile valleys that alternate with barren sand wastes. The town is about 65 miles southwest of Meshed, the capital of Khorassan.

Over 1,000 Homeless--Many Houses Washed Away

Oklahoma City In Grip Of Flood

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—With damage from the overflow of the North Canadian River already running into hundreds of thousands of dollars, the crisis is expected to be reached in Oklahoma City today when a two-foot rise reported up stream yesterday, arrives here.

Hundreds of houses and stores in the southern bottom lands have been washed away or flooded and more than 1,000 persons are homeless.

One life is known to have been lost. An unknown hero gave his life in rescue work late last night. The man, about 25 years old, was a volunteer worker in the flooded Walnut Grove section. He had made repeated rescue trips.

Garbed in a bathing suit he swam out in the swirling waters to a flooded house to make sure all occupants had escaped. He was last seen by a policeman as he was caught in the current and drawn under the walls of the building.

The waters have completely cut off Packing Town, where the stock yards and packing plants are located. Unless the flood subsides greatly within the next few days, it will be necessary to use boats to bring provisions to the city from Packing Town, it was said.

Five to ten feet of water covers Wheeler Park and it is believed some of the zoo animals have perished. Water stands more than five feet deep in Western League Baseball Park, and a portion of the fair grounds is flooded.

About 100 refugees were cared for last night at the city auditorium. More than 300 girls were housed by the Salvation Army which is directing the feeding of the food sufferers.

Orders were issued by Mayor Carrigan authorizing refugees to occupy any vacant houses in the city.

Daugherty Denies He Intends To Resign

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Attorney General Daugherty, returning to Washington after a period of rest in Ohio, today attended his first cabinet meeting in several weeks and denied reports which again have been circulated that he soon would resign.

"I have heard nothing and know nothing of reports published in Ohio that I am to resign," said Mr. Daugherty. "I feel better and I am better than since I was taken ill last winter. I am ready to get back on the job actively. In fact I have been doing considerable work right along."

"The frequency with which these reports that I am to resign, spring up in certain quarters, is certainly strange."

The attorney general left Washington early in the month to take Mrs. Daugherty, who had been a patient in a Baltimore hospital, to the Daugherty home at Columbus, Ohio. He turned last evening he spent the night at the White House and will continue to be a guest there for two or three days pending re-opening of his residence here.

President Harding is understood to have discussed plans for his western trip last night and today with the attorney general. The itinerary for the trip virtually was completed last week, but announcement was withheld presumably because of the executive desire to go over the plans finally with Mr. Daugherty, who was his pre-convention campaign manager in 1920 and who since then has been one of his foremost advisers.

A number of questions relative to administration policies as well as several Department of Justice matters also are expected to come up for discussion between the president and the attorney general during the next few days.

Five Killed In Explosion

FAYVILLE, ILL., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Five men were killed and three injured in an explosion at the Hercules Powder Company here today.

The explosion was in a gelatin packing plant in which the five killed were working. The cause of the blast has not been determined. The packing plant was destroyed but only other of the numerous buildings of the plant was damaged.

Legion Commander Recalls Sacrifice Of Nation's Heroes

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The splendor of the sacrifices of America's war dead are recalled today by Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, in a proclamation urging the nation to pay homage to its heroes in a fitting commemoration on Memorial Day.

Commander Owsley said:

"The world is wrecked by the quibbling of nations over the spoils of war, but the sublime faith in the achievements of the recent world struggle is still in the minds of the men and women of America, who cherish a belief in the righteousness of the cause."

"Brave Americans in the pursuit of the conflict's grim course became imbued with the fires of ambition which carried them on to the war's objective—the destruction of an unrighteous power."

"The ideals of our citizen-soldiers found expression in the defense of humanity. To have fought for the flag in the great conflict was to have maintained the cause of right. In the words of one soldier, who wrote to his mother on the eve of battle: 'For myself I would have you believe that whatever end I meet, I met it with an even mind, constant in the conclusion that I would rather have gone out in this war and not come back, than not to have gone at all. My chief regret, if I may not live to see the end, is that I may not witness the triumph of right over wrong in this, the most terrible eruption of the force of reaction in the history of man. That these forces can triumph is unthinkable; if they are to win I would rather die than witness the victory.'"

"It was in such spirit that such men of this great nation died. It was that unutterable pride in the defense of humanity's (that led them to give their all. Theirs was the realization of the spirit of America."

"Our sacred privilege is to enshrine them in the heart of America and the world. Hollowed tombs of our dead lie in the poppy covered fields of Flanders and in their home land. We, their comrades of the American Legion, shall not forget their deeds."

"On the annual recurrence of Memorial Day, in devotion and reverence, we turn to consecrate the resting place of these, our heroic dead. We must bow to the splendor of the sacrifice, the heroism of their lives, the glory of their belief in America and our institutions."

"As national commander of the American Legion, I implore every man, woman and child of our mighty nation to pay homage to the memory of these brave men of every race, class and creed of every war. Let us reconsecrate their resting places as Shrines of a Free America; rededicate our lives to the furtherance of ideals for which they died."

Shooting Over Grocery Bill

CINCINNATI, O., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Mary Jones, 47, hounded between life and death today as a result of being shot by her husband, William Jones, 51, who turned his revolver upon himself after wounding her, and inflicted injuries which caused his death.

The shooting occurred in his home last night and was witnessed by the stepson and two step daughters of the gun user.

According to the latter, Jones tried to use his gun on them, and then threatened, shot himself through the head. Mrs. Jones is shot in the abdomen.

An argument over money spent for groceries is said by the police to have led up to the shooting. Jones was employed in a laundry.

Billion Offered For Fleet

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Shipping Board will investigate thoroughly the offer of more than $1,000,000 received yesterday for the entire Government merchant fleet, Chairman Lusk said today, and if the bidders back up their proposal, "there can be no doubt the board will make the award to them."

The offer was presented by John W. Slack, President of the Columbia Postal Supply Company, of Silver Creek, N. Y. It proposes to pay $1,500,000 for all ships active, and inactive and all other property of the United States Shipping Board, real, personal and mixed.

"An initial payment of $51,000,000 would be made on Oct. 1, 1923, and $20,000,000 yearly thereafter until the entire sum had been paid."

Probe Deaths Of Women Patients At Sanitarium

CHICAGO, May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The State Department of Registration and Education today began an investigation into the deaths of two women shortly after they were discharged from a suburban sanitarium, one of whom died of starvation, according to the death certificate. John W. Pollner, an inspector, reported to the department that relatives and friends of the two women told him that while they were patients at the sanitarium they were given the "water cure" applied with a garden hose with an intense nozzle spray and were "dieted" until they were living skeletons just before their deaths.

The women were given no food and little water for weeks at a time, it was charged.

The sanitarium is the private institution operated by Dr. George E. Hoff, formerly a former Chicago practitioner.

Dr. Hoffmeyer was said to have admitted the women were fed very little. "I fasted 80 days myself once," he was quoted as saying. "They would die from that."

The women were Mrs. Anna Kolbar, who went to the sanitarium on April 2, left on May 22 and died three days later and Miss Gertrude Klages, 29, a stenographer, entered the institution on January 1, stayed seven or eight weeks, and died last week.

Vets Smashed Statue To Pieces

YORK, P. A., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Former service men early today demolished the statue "winged victory" which was placed in front of the court house, during the victory loan drive in 1919. The statue, made of plaster, had fallen into a state of disrepair and the county commissioners refused to mend it. War veterans announced several days ago that they would refuse to march past the statue on Memorial Day if it was not repaired. No attention apparently was given this threat and today a group of war veterans marched to the court house. Using ropes and chains, they pulled the statue off its base and it broke into pieces.

Conditions Are Ripe For Third Party, Says Munsey

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1923 By The Portsmouth Times)
WASHINGTON, May 29.—"Conditions never were so ripe as they are today for the formation of a third party—if conditions in 1912 had advanced to their present stage, Roosevelt would have swept the country and the third party would have succeeded."

Thus spoke Frank A. Munsey, publisher of four New York newspapers today when asked his comment on William Randolph Hearst's statement that if Henry Ford were nominated by an independent party Ford would receive Hearst's support.

Mr. Munsey does not advocate the formation of a third party nor has he taken himself out of the ranks of the Republican party though he has been bitterly opposed to President Harding's world court policy. But like Mr. Hearst who reads the signs of the times and makes his comments so does Mr. Munsey have his thoughts on what the present mixup in the national political situation means to the country.

Probe Nine Mysterious Deaths In One Household

LANSING, MICH., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—While Mrs. Emma Kopple is awaiting trial here in connection with the death by poisoning of her 12-year-old foster son, Harry, police are seeking to learn the cause of at least nine deaths in her household within a decade.

So far, the following deaths have been revealed as having occurred in Mrs. Kopple's immediate family or in her home:

A Cold State school boy who boarded at the Kopple home.

Mrs. Kopple's nine-day old baby, Rose.

Pearly Klans, her niece.

A little boy, unnamed, also being boarded.

A child known only as "Shawko".

"A child of Traugott Hedrick" (Mrs. Kopple is said to have acted as housekeeper at the home of her first husband, Newton Higgins, with whom she said she lived in St. Louis, Michigan).

Mrs. Kopple has denied the deaths of the first four but admitted knowledge of any child named "Shawko" or "any child of Traugott Hedrick."

No child died at the home while she was there, she said yesterday.

That there was any mystery in connection with these deaths, Mrs. Kopple vigorously denies. She answers the officials' query as to who the Cold State boy was buried a few hours after his death by saying that dysentery caused the child's death and "we had to bury the child at once."

Two of her three children by Higgins, she said in an interview yesterday, died at birth. Scarlet fever took the third, a boy of three she said.

Revelations of her previous marriage was the new development upon which police worked today. She is said to have told them that Higgins left her and that she later was granted a divorce and married again.

Jim Shannon, a boarder at the Kopple home, together with Mrs. Kopple, is held in connection with the death of her foster child. She said yesterday that Shannon gave the boy white powders to "settle his stomach."

SOCIETY

The following handsomely engraved invitations were mailed out Monday:

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Frederick Neudoerfer will give in marriage their daughter Miriam Elizabeth to Mr. Frank Seely Ferguson on the evening of Thursday June fourteenth at seven-thirty o'clock at Bigelow Methodist, Episcopal Church Portsmouth, Ohio.

The honor of your presence is requested.

Miss Wilhelmina Justice, whose wedding to Mr. Louis Schaefer of Ashland, Ky., will be a charming event of June 19th, was accompanied with a pretty miscellaneous shower last night, when Miss Virginia McMahon, Miss Gladys Graham and Miss Elizabeth Orlett entertained in her honor at the beautiful new home of Miss McMahon, 739 Grimes avenue.

The affair was a complete surprise to Miss Justice, who was unaware of the arrangements until her arrival at the McMahon home. A color scheme of pink and white was used in the decoration of the presentation of gifts.

Miss Justice's wedding march, near the end of which Miss Louise Holberg slowly wended her way into the living room, carrying a pretty decorated basket filled with many handsome gifts for the charming bride-elect.

After opening and admiring the gifts, the remainder of the evening was spent in playing Five Hundred. At the close of several interesting games Miss Edith Walters was awarded the prize for high score, while Miss Virginia McMahon was presented with the consolation prize.

Later a delicious pink and white ice course was served at the card tables, which were prettily appointed for the occasion.

Those present at this delightful affair included the following members of the St. Nicholas Club: The Misses Charlotte Schaefer, Gertrude and Edith Walters, Dorothy Hoag, Hazel Graham, Lorena Brunner, Gladys Graham, Virginia McMahon, Elizabeth Orlett and Wilhelmina Justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Journey and son, Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. William Addis and daughters, Winona and Betty Ann, of Navarre, motored to Columbus, where they joined Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Keller and spent Sunday at the Keller cottage at Buckeye Lake.

Mrs. Charles Taylor was a gracious hostess on Monday afternoon when she welcomed the members of the Youngman Circle to her home on Second street. The hours were delightfully whittled away in sewing and social chat with a delicious refreshment course in conclusion.

Those enjoying the pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. T. D. Smith, Mrs. L. H. Marsh, Mrs. Clifford Baker, Mrs. Raymond Landrum, Misses Louise Emmet, Helen Sprague and Andrew Roze, and the hostess, Mrs. James McMullen was a guest for the afternoon.

The next meeting will be in the nature of an outing with Miss Audrey Reep as the hostess.

Frightened By Cross

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Children who became frightened when a fiery cross appeared near a festival being held by a Roman Catholic parish here last night were calmed by Rev. Man Wanted Here On Robbery Charge Is Under Arrested In Pittsburgh

Robert Rice alias Roy Rice, who escaped from Hempstead hospital a few days ago while at the institution for observation is under arrest in Pittsburgh under the name of Robert D. Ryan, local authorities were advised today in a communication received from the Smoky City police department inquiring if Rice is wanted here.

The communication was accompanied by a photograph of the man under arrest and local officers readily recognized the likeness as that of Rice, who was arrested here when caught in the act of robbing the home of Ralph Calvert, 1134 Second street. He was also under indictment at the time of his escape on two charges of larceny which is the charge against him at Pittsburgh.

Rice is a former soldier and is said to be suffering from some form of mental trouble due to shell shock. He is about 40 years old and a native of Maryland, Ky.

Admits Guilt; Released On Bond
Ross Yates, a welder, appeared in Common Pleas court Tuesday and pleaded guilty under an indictment charging him with abandoning three minor children and he was released on furnished bond in the sum of $1,000, before sentence for the faithful compliance with an order entered by Judge Thomas requiring him to pay the sum of $12 a week for the support of the children.

McDougal Fined
When Hugh McDougal, young man from Wilmington, N. C., indicted on two charges of cutting with intent to wound Clark and Russell Adams, he was permitted to plea guilty to the lesser offense of assault and battery in one case while on the motion of prosecutor Skelton, the other indictment was nolleed. This action was taken after an investigation by the officials, indicated that the trouble which occurred at Fourth and Chillicothe streets, on the night of March 4, was brought on by the prosecutive witnesses and that young McDougal acted in his proper self-defense.

Admits Guilt; Sent To Jail

Henry Ford Plans D. T. & I. Extension And Dam For Ohio River Power Plant

"We are planning extension of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironport south of the Ohio to our coal field in eastern Kentucky and southern West Virginia, an addition of sixty-five miles, and the electrification of the entire system," Henry Ford is quoted in the Boston News Bureau of May 28, in an authorized interview, copyright by the United Press.

"We hope to get government permission to build a large power dam across the Ohio near Ironport, which will not only provide a roadbed for the railroad over the river, but provide electric power, and in no way interfere with navigation. Such a road would give Detroit direct connection with coal fields and insure certain coal supply."

This statement is in line with an interview given to the Huntington Herald-Dispatch by Mr. Ford at Williamsport shortly after his acquisition of the properties of the Pond Creek Collieries company.

The announcement that he plans to connect with his coal fields in Kentucky and West Virginia, is certain to give rise to a renewal of speculation which was rife recently, as to the route likely to be taken in getting into Kentucky and West Virginia, Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

Henry Ford, who has been taking options on hundreds of acres of land in the vicinity of Franklin Furnace, when asked today if this project had anything to do with the project, in which he is interested, again called attention to his previous statement that the Henry Ford interests were not concerned with the acquiring of the lands, and that announcement as to what the use of the land would be put, if acquired, would be made in due time.

Award Street Paving Jobs; Alley Bids Are Rejected

Three street paving contracts were awarded by the Board of Control at a meeting Monday afternoon. Kelley Bros. were awarded the contract for paving Poplar street, from Gallia street, north on their bid of $6,080.15. This contract and the two others for street paving call for a six inch concrete base with first class brick and tar filler.

The Harper-Ruel Co. landed the contract for paving Oakland avenue, north from Kimer's Lane on their bid of $14,758.50. They have a big cut and fill to make on this street. Kelley Bros. were awarded the contract for the paving of twenty-eighth street from Chillicothe street 730 feet east. Their bid was $10,122.51. All bids for the improving of alleys between Third and Fourth streets from Sinton to Waller and Waller to Union were rejected. The low bids were on concrete, the kind of improvement asked for by the property owners but as the city has no specifications for concrete paving it was found that the contracts could not be let for concrete. Bids will be advertised for again on these two jobs with concrete paving specifications to be adopted by the city in the meantime.

13 BABIES RECEIVED 100 PER CENT

Whether there is luck in the stars, the figure thirteen or not, at any rate thirteen babies received 100 per cent in the recent Baby Show featuring Better Health Week in this city. This was the report of the General Committee, after all ratings had been carefully gone over and mailed to over 200 mothers who entered their babies in the contest.

These examinations were conducted in rigid fashion in order that their might be no opportunity given for charges of favoritism. The Baby Examining Committee consisted of Dr. Tania Nimmaker, Dr. Clyde Fitch and Dr. James G. Martin. Each baby was examined by five or more physicians and the composite results of these examinations made the final score. Among the doctors who assisted were Dr. T. C. Crawford, Dr. R. W. DeCrow, Dr. J. W. Daehler, Dr. L. G. Locke, Dr. Gilbert Mcklethwait, Dr. W. A. Quinn, Dr. Harry P. Rapp, Dr. J. S. Rardin, Dr. O. D. Tatje and several others.

The score sheet was adapted from the recent Better Baby Show held in Dayton, Ohio, and the tests here given are considered most thorough and comprehensive. The mental test, which rated 15 points was subdivided for babies of six months, one year, eighteen months, and two to three years. The six months' infant was judged upon disposition, sitting alone, playing, hearing, seeing, head balance, seizing objects and facial expression. Disposition was also considered in the first-year infants, together with playing, making a few sounds, looking at pictures, and knowing mother. The eighteen months' class was judged on disposition, walking alone, saying a few words, imitation and interest, while from two to three disposition was always considered, running short sentences, interest, pictures, obedience, imitation, knowing, features, etc., always being considered. The head was carefully considered, including the hair and scalp, the features, neck, eyes, nose and teeth. The head examination totaled twenty. A very careful examination was also given the trunk, chest, heart, lungs, the back and other important features. The total score for the trunk was twenty-five. Arms and hands, feet and legs, rated ten; measurements rated twenty; and a miscellaneous examination rated twenty. This included posture, gait, skin, nutrition and deportment.

The physical and mental development among the babies brought before the local physicians showed a very high rating. The contest was so close that many times a trifling defect had to be considered in making the final score. The number of babies receiving high ratings besides those who got one hundred per cent are: Nine rated 29 per cent, 19 rated 98 per cent, 14 rated 97 per cent, 24 rated 96 per cent, 12 rated 95 per cent, 4 rated 94 per cent, 4 rated 93 per cent, 2 rated 92 per cent, 4 rated 91 per cent, two rated 90 per cent, 1 rated 89 per cent, 1 rated 88 per cent, 1 rated 87 per cent and 1 rated 82 per cent.

Ohio Pigs Squealing For Worm Medicine

The United Pig Club members, Empire community, have arranged for a capsule demonstration at the home of their leader, Jacob Hammerstein, Friday, June 1st, at 9 a. m.

Anyone interested in seeing the demonstration is invited to attend. Extension men of O. S. U. say that 100,000 hogs will be given the capsule treatment during this month. The agricultural extension service at the Ohio State University, under which the capsule treatment was a result of similar demonstrations last fall, and believes that at least twice as many pigs took their medicine as a result of the demonstrations.

The University stockmen will hazard no estimations as to total money gain by farmers who have used this treatment, but do cite the experience of one Marion County farmer who treated 44 of 50 hogs and who sold the 44 at an average of $1.92 more a head than the six untreated.

May is the month to give spring pigs this capsule capsule treatment. Eggs picked up by the pigs as they root hatch out worms inside the hog, which worms in turn lay as many as 50,000,000 eggs apiece, eggs that pass from the hog in manure and are ready to be picked up by other hogs for another cycle of life.

BUYS INDUSTRY IN NEW JERSEY

IRONTON, May 29—E. O. Marting, one of Ironton's most prominent business men, and resident of this city, has purchased a large industry in New Jersey and is arranging his affairs so that he can depart for the East within a short time to take charge of the new plant.

The business will require the constant supervision of Mr. Marting and he and his splendid family will move to New Jersey during the present summer. The removal will necessitate the resignation of Mr. Marting from Ironton's councilman body. It is likely that the resignation will be tendered at a meeting in the near future and the election of a successor will follow within a short time.

Mr. Marting has long been connected with the industrial and social life of the community and has been a big factor in the advancement of Ironton's interests. His decision to leave the city is hailed with regret by his fellow townsmen and all who enjoy his acquaintance, but they join in wishing him continued success in his new business venture.

DULL HEADACHE AND BILIOUSNESS

Theodore's Black-Draught Has Been Used In This Virginia Lady's Home For More Than 30 Years

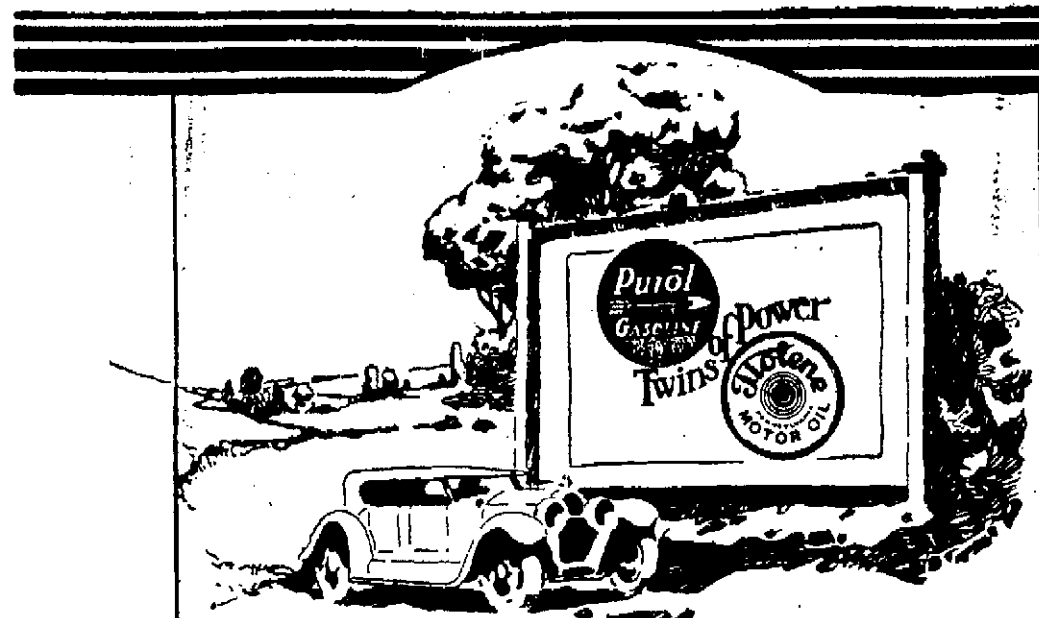

Reasley, Va.—Mrs. Jeannette S. Carney says that she has kept Theodore's Black-Draught liver medicine in her home here, for more than thirty years, and has given it to members of her family when they needed it. Of her own use of Black-Draught Mrs. Carney says:

"I have suffered from constipation. I get in such bad condition sometimes that I do not know what to do. My head aches with a dull kind of an ache, and I get bilious. I have found Black-Draught to be the best relief for this I have ever tried. We have come to depend on it in our family as a family friend."

"Black-Draught is very convenient to take. I take a half spoonful in water as long as I need it and it is the finest regulator for the bowels. I got stopped up and had a full, swollen feeling through my stomach. Sometimes I would even faint, they would be so bad."

"Now, when I feel myself getting the least bit constipated, I immediately begin the use of Black-Draught. I have given it to my children and my grandchildren. Everybody here takes it. Sometimes my granddaughter cuts too much, and this is followed by sour stomach, she runs at once for Black-Draught. I am glad to recommend it."

Calvin Gray, staying in Dallas at the most expensive hotel, is the avowed enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bell Nelson, banker. Gray is in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker, Gus Briskow, friend of Gray, takes Ma Briskow and daughter, Allegheny, to the mountains. Allie has a tutor, Mrs. King, also a professor to teach her dancing. The dancing master kisses Allie, who becomes enraged and throws him from a window. The hotel manager orders the Briskows from the hotel, but Calvin Gray arrives in time to arrange for the family to remain.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

CHAPTER XVI

Plots and Counter Plots

FROM the day of their first meeting, Henry Nelson and Calvin Gray had clashed. No two people could be more different in disposition than these two men. Every action of the one seemed to have aroused the other's antagonism.

Following the departure of his two callers on that day of the meeting in the bank, Nelson closed his desk and went home. He could work no more. For several days thereafter he was an unpleasant person to do business with.

After cautious deliberation Henry sent word to one of his men in the Ranger field that he wished to see him.

The man came promptly, and when he left Henry Nelson's house after a conference he carried with him a perfectly clear idea why he had been sent for. "This despite the fact that he had not been told so many words."

So much accomplished, Nelson went to Dallas and there undertook to learn something about the size of Calvin Gray's profits, who was behind him and the extent of their backing, and what his prospects were.

When he returned home Gray was gone, whether he could not learn. As the days passed without further developments, Nelson began to believe that he had a bad dream and that Gray had merely been talking to hear his own voice. He devoutly hoped that such would prove to be the case.

A time came, however, when his apprehensions were roused afresh, and it was Barbara Parker who reminded him. She had come to the bank with an excellent proposition and was doing her best to sell it. In the course of her conversation she referred to Gray in a manner that gave Nelson cause for thought.

"I've looked this lease over," "Bob" was saying, "and I've seen the books. It has been producing a hundred and fifty barrels a day steadily. Production like that is cheap at a thousand dollars a barrel. It is worth a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, Henry."

"Why is it offered for seventy-five?"

"Bob" shrugged. "How did a 'hell weevil' like this Jackson ever make even a hundred-and-fifty-barrel well in the first place? Where did he get the money to drill? He is sick of the game, I suppose, and would be satisfied to get his money back with a reasonable profit. It is a fluke, really."

"Looks so, for a fact. How did you get on to it, Bob?"

"I found it by chance. Through a man named Mallory, a scientist of some sort with a magic tester." The girl laughed.

"Don't know him."

"Mallory is as queer as the rest of his kind, and I put no faith in his story until I investigated. But the well is there and doing a hundred and fifty barrels as regular as clock-work."

"You'll have no trouble in selling it."

"Then you're not interested?"

"Interested? Yes, indeed," Nelson nodded. "I'm quite excited, as a matter of fact, but I can't handle it at this particular time."

"He's buying and selling, is he? He said something about entering this field in a big way."

"He's in," "Bob's" eyes were sparkling. "Oh, things are looking up for dad and me. Mr. Gray is a real miracle man, isn't he?" When this question evoked no response, the girl inquired, curiously, "Tell me, are you and he such good friends as he says you are?"

"Does he say we are good friends?"

"Un-in—well, he speaks admiringly of you, and if people admire me I love them. He thinks you are a remarkably capable person. A determined fighter, I think he called you. That should be high praise, coming from a fellow officer. He probably outlined his plans to you."

"He did," Nelson spoke dryly. "I assumed that he was relying on your judgment and taking your tip."

"Why? How so?"

"Because he has bought so much land alongside of yours."

"Where?"

Barbara was surprised. "I—why, I supposed you knew." After a moment of hesitation she said: "I think I'd better keep my mouth closed."

Bilious Attacks Are Usually Due to Constipation

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

Wade & Stoner these were busy days, what with a couple of new wildcat promotions and a well going down on semiprobable ground that lease which covered into the Nelson holdings, and to which Stoner had called attention. It had been easy to sell stock in the latter enterprise, and now the deeper went the hole, the higher rose the hopes of the promoters. Stoner himself was directing operations, and he had named the well "Avenger Number One."

CHAPTER XVII

Buddy Breaks the Traces
To learn that her mountain retreat had been invaded and that she had been spied upon filled Ma Briskow with dismay, but when Allie found fault with her behavior the elder woman burned with resentment.

"We're queer enough," the girl said, "without you cutting up crazy and making folks talk. If you want to dance for goodness' sake hire somebody to learn—to teach you, same as I did. What was you up to the other day? That Delamater man said you was acting plumb nutty."

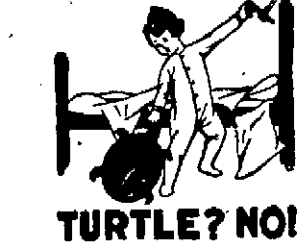

"Mind your own business!" the old woman snapped. She flounced out of the room, leaving Allie amazed and indignant at this burst of temper.

That day Ma Briskow abandoned her mountain fastness. She took her faithful retainers with her and led them farther up the ravine to a retreat that was truly inaccessible.

The next day, when she stealthily slipped out of her French window, she found Calvin Gray tily rocking on the veranda. He welcomed her appearance and pretended not to see her embarrassment at the meeting; he was glad of this chance for a visit with her alone. Perhaps she was going for a walk and would take him along?

But Ma flushed faintly, and for some time longer she refused her confidence. It didn't matter; it was all an old woman's foolishness; nobody would understand. Gray was not insistent; nevertheless, before long they were on their way toward the glen. In a reckless burst of confidence Ma told him all about her hidden hand of mountaineers.

He insisted upon making the personal acquaintance of those hold-folk.

Just the same, he couldn't have done better than to follow your lead. That is the first compliment I ever paid you, Henry."

"I've paid you enough. And I do believe in you, 'Bob,' but I'm not the flatterer kind. He's a great ladies' man. I wonder if he is going to make me jealous."

"You? Jealous? Coming from Wichita's most emotionless banker, from the cold county Croesus, that speech is almost a—a declaration."

Miss Parker laughed frankly. "Why, Henry! My haughty little nose is turning up—I can feel it. But, alas! it proves your insincerity. If you had faith in my judgment you'd pick up this snip."

With some hesitation the man said: "We're in deep, 'Bob.' Awfully deep! That's the worst of this oil game, it takes so much money to protect your holdings. It doesn't pay to prospect land for the benefit of your neighbor; the risks are too great. Gray has been pretty attentive to you, hasn't he?"

"That's a part of the man; he is attentive to everybody. I have received more candy and flowers and delightful little surprises than in all my short, neglected life."

"I didn't know you liked candy."

"I don't. But I adore getting it. The thought counts. I don't care much for candies, either I have such bad luck with them—but no son or the dearest thing from New York. A tiny mechanical bird with actual feathers. And it sings! It is a really tiny yellow canary in a beautiful gold cage, and when you press a spring it pecks its head, opens its beak, flirts its tail, and utters the most musical song. It must have cost a fortune. Couldn't you love a man who would think of a present like that?"

When she had gone Nelson sat in a frowning study for some time. So it was not all a bad dream. What could be Gray's object in buying acreage adjoining his? Was it faith in his, Nelson's, judgment, a desire to ride to success on the tail of his enemy's kite, or did it mean a war of officers, drilling operations in the start a well come in?

In and around the office of M-lowers of hers and upon hearing the whole sad story of the Princess Penelope. The history of her struggle against the wicked Duke of Dallas moved him; he wore new details of his own into it, and before Ma knew it he was actually playing the part of the duke.

The duke, it appeared, was a hard and haughty man, but at heart he was not all bad; when he had listened to the story of his victim's wrongs and more fully appreciated the courage, the devotion of her faithful followers, he was touched. He was a handsome man and no wickedder than the general run of dukes; he would make a becoming husband to the beautiful princess, and if she set her mind to it she could probably make a better person of him. Thus would the warring factions be united, thus would the blessings of peace descend—

Ka-di-ok is the most highly-endorsed remedy ever sold in Columbus. Every mail brings voluntary statements expressing gratitude for the relief it has given people who reside right here in this city, any or all of which can be easily verified by anyone sufficiently interested to do so.

Mrs. C. F. Danner, who lives at 865 S. Parsons Avenue, Columbus, says: "I suffered from stomach trouble for over two years and was in a very weak and highly nervous condition; had no appetite and could never sleep at night, with the result that I felt tired and miserable all the time. I submitted to an operation last year, but the result was a disappointment to me, as I failed to get any permanent relief. After taking a treatment of Ka-di-ok I have recuperated wonderfully. I now have a good appetite, sleep well and feel fine generally. I get up every morning well rested and do my own housework without any special effort, which I was never able to do for the past two or three years. Ka-di-ok has done me more good than I imagined was possible."

KIDNEY TROUBLE?

The Kidneys are the Blood Filters—When They Weaken and Stop Up—the System Becomes Overloaded with Uric Acid.

Cincinnati, Ohio—"For about four years I suffered with my kidneys being out of order. I had severe pains thru my back just across the kidneys and I would become so dizzy at times I would have to lie down and it passed off. I also had inflammation of the bladder and suffering from a burning and smarting. The excretion had a thick sediment and a very offensive odor. I suffered constantly. I tried many kidney medicines without relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric (Kidney and Backache) Tablets. They gave me the first relief in four years. Since taking them I have not experienced any more trouble. The urine has cleared up and I am feeling just fine. I can do my work with ease and comfort. In fact, I feel like a new man. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets to all who suffer with kidney ailments."—Wm. Johns, 254 Broad St.

If a third party with a radical at its head is put into the field, then Mr. Munsey believes there will come a conservative party to which Republicans and Democrats will flock. To that extent the movement that makes Ford an independent ticket candidate helps to solidify and concentrate the conservative strength in opposition.

Says Conservatives Are Divided

The trouble with the present situation," said Mr. Munsey, "is that the conservatives are divided—they belong to the two old parties. Divided the conservatives haven't a show in the world. You can't get liberal conservatives, for instance, in a new organization unless there is a radical outburst. If there arises a strong radical party and it makes a good showing in 1924, perhaps even a winning place, you will get your liberal conservative party at once. The old parties would then die and ought to die."

Mr. Munsey pointed out to the writer that the Roosevelt party was formed in 1912, but that it didn't have time after the 1912 convention to get well organized and that the situation today is far different with a whole year ahead of the convention. He added:

"I would not like to see a 'real' or 'socialist' party when I speak of a radical party. I mean a party that would frighten people but a party with a sane type of man who grips the public fancy. There are a number of good men for such leadership. Hiram Johnson is one. Albert Beveridge is another."

Mr. Munsey didn't essay any comments on Mr. Ford's candidacy beyond the remark that if Henry Ford took here and in Washington, it is the world court, he would be charting a course entirely different from the two old parties which are committed to the world court. He does not underestimate Mr. Ford's political strength and potentiality.

Unquestionably the talk of Ford is the biggest thing in national politics here and in Washington. It is reminiscent of the wave of sentiment which fired the political skies for a while when Herbert Hoover was talked of as a possible candidate for either the Republican or Democratic tickets. But Mr. Hoover's friends made the mistake of trying to force their way into the conventions of the two old parties. Should Henry Ford's supporters try the same thing, their effort will end as did the Hoover boom—in nothing so far as delegates go. But Henry Ford is being talked of for an independent ticket and already William Randolph Hearst announces his readiness to support Ford, which is a nucleus of publicity strength that makes the old party leaders at least sit up and take notice.

The amazing thing about the Hearst announcement is the attitude of many leading Jews in New York City, who are flabbergasted at the Hearst position. The Hearst newspaper has always professed great friendship to the Jews and have always fought religious bigotry. Mr. Hearst's sudden espousal of the one man who has leveled more attacks against Jews in America than any other man in modern times is a considerable task. Either it is a serious reconsideration of the Jewish question, or it is a means of making politics has superseded all else in the mind of the chain publisher.

It is bound to become one of the interesting phases of the campaign for change the Ku Klux Klan gets in the Ford banner and issue of religious bigotry over and over again. There's no telling what political mixups are liable to develop in the next 12 months.

Mr. Hearst talks independent radical party. Mr. Munsey thinks the birth of a radical party means the breakup of the old parties and the inevitable development of the inevitable party which would the politicians are wondering whether the Ford boom is a real thing or a flirter.

Local Chiropractors, To Uphold Principle, They Say, Go To Jail

Found to be guilty at a hearing in Municipal court Monday afternoon of violating the provisions of the limited practitioners' law by unlawfully advertising and announcing themselves to be practitioners of medicine and surgery, in one of its branches, chiropractic, before obtaining a license from the state medical board of Ohio, in manner as required by law, Drs. H. D. Owen, Omer L. Knechtly and

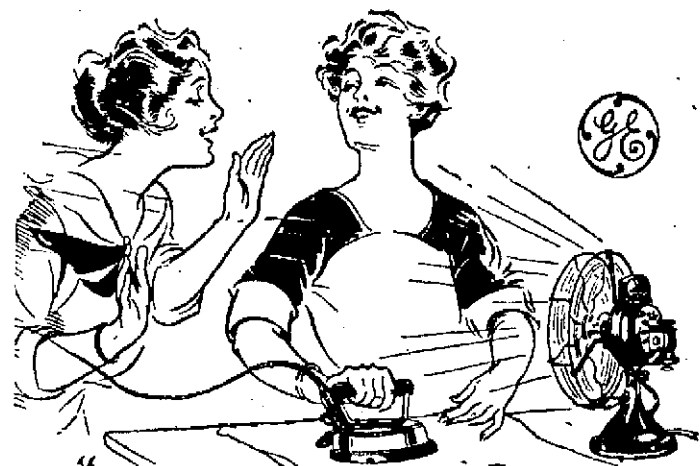

Hazel T. Knechtly were committed to the county jail when they flatly refused to pay the $50 fine assessed against each of them. By their action in going to prison the chiropractors carried out their expressed intention at the time of their arrest several weeks ago that they would emulate the example set by members of their profession who have been prosecuted in other Ohio cities for violating the same law and went to jail as a protest against what they brand as an unfair and un-American law.

Dr. T. D. Parks, who was also convicted at the hearing yesterday but was permitted to go after his counsel, Attorney T. C. Beatty indicated that the fine would be paid or bond would be furnished to carry the case to the Common Pleas court error this morning, decided on a different course when he surrendered to Bailiff George Foehr and he was taken to the county house where he joined his comrades behind the bars. Dr. Parks entered the prison shortly after eleven o'clock, just in time for the noon meal, but he declined any food with the explanation that he had not eaten but two meals a day for more than ten years.

The trio that went to jail yesterday afternoon had numerous callers during the day, including their attorneys with whom they held a lengthy conference at the conclusion of which the prisoners stated they had nothing further to say. They all appeared in good spirits and are making the best of the situation, in view of their firm belief they are restrained of their liberty for fighting for their just rights and a principle. Among the callers was Attorney Knechtly of Cincinnati, a brother of Dr. Knechtly.

At the outset of the hearing the court denied the separate applications of the defendants filed Saturday demanding trial by jury, because imprisonment is not a part of the penalty under the law for the offense charged.

The courtroom was packed with spectators interested in the proceedings, many in the throng being former patients of the defendants and they lost no opportunity in voicing their sentiments for the accused, on one occasion starting a noisy demonstration by applauding the statements made by one of the defense counsel in his plea to the court.

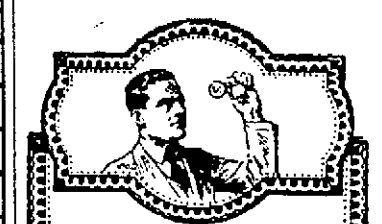

The evidence was rather brief. Celia F. Dorsey, of Columbus, special agent for the state medical board, was the only witness called by the prosecution. She told of filing the affidavits on April 1 last, after interviewing each of the defendants at their places of business and learning they were practicing chiropractic. Certificates were introduced from the secretary of the state medical board to show that no license has been issued to any of the defendants to practice medicine or surgery in any of its branches.

On cross examination Mrs. Dorsey said she had been engaged in the work investigating for the state board since last December, and that she had investigated one person in this city other than the defendants but found that he was not holding himself out as a chiropractor. The party referred to was W. H. Sprague, she said. The witness stated in reply to a question from Judge Blair, that the only complaint against the defendants was that they were holding themselves out as chiropractors, or rather, unlicensed chiropractors, and not for harm or wrong to anyone. She further stated that there are two or three licensed chiropractors in Columbus and one or two in Lima and that a couple had been licensed within the last year or two.

Questioned by Attorney A. H. Bannon, the witness admitted that she learned during the course of her investigation in respect to the case of Omer L. Knechtly that the latter had made application to the state board for an examination in 1915 and that he had been unable to have it acted upon, but she declared she had not any knowledge of the application referred to being on file and that she made no report of the result of her investigation further than that he was practicing without a license.

Dr. Knechtly on the stand in his own behalf, told of filing his application with the state board for an examination and that he had been informed he was not eligible without further explanation and that he had been refused an examination. He stated that he was a graduate of the Davenport, Iowa, Chiropractic college and held a diploma from that institution to practice the science.

Dr. Parks Testifies.
Dr. Parks testified that he had made application to the state board for an examination, but stated that he had made an investigation why it had been refused and in explanation said that he had been given to understand it would be of no use to try to learn why he had been turned down. He told the court that he held diplomas from two Chiropractic colleges.

This concluded the evidence, and Prosecutor Sheppard M. Johnson opened the argument with a brief address to the court in which he pointed out the law governing the cases and insisted that its flagrant violation, as he claimed the evidence showed in the cases at issue, called for severe punishment. He argued that a substantial fine be assessed so as to "awaken the defendants to the absolute necessity of observing the law."

Attorney T. C. Beatty made an appeal in behalf of the accused in mitigation of the offense, if any. He called attention to the fact that the defendants had not been permitted to take the state examination and referred to the many persons who had been rescued from lives of misery by chiropractic treatment and declared that countless loved ones had been saved by the science. He branded the prosecution "as a travesty on justice."

Judge A. Z. Blair also made a strong appeal for the defendants, declaring that in the evolution of the treatment of the human body, Chiropractic science was the existing treatment which the American people will adopt. He asserted that the arrest of the defendants had caused people to talk and claimed this had resulted in a feeling that the defendants had been a benefit to womanhood and manhood and he referred to the fact that no attempt had been made by the prosecution to show that anyone had been wronged or any claim that they were trying to get money from the innocent. He said there is a growing sentiment throughout the state which is ripening into an initiative to urge the General Assembly to give the Chiropractors a chance and in closing contended that this was a case in the event of a finding of guilt, for the minimum penalty under the law.

Attorney Arthur H. Bannon referred to the charges as purely technical, declaring that the mere hanging out of a sign was only a shadow of an offense and expressed himself of the opinion that the state board was "pretty hard up for prosecutions to press such complaints."

Attorney John Parks, of Columbus, representing the state board, in closing the arguments, insisted that the courts had held chiropractic to be the practice of medicine, in one of its branches, and declared that there was no reason why persons in that profession should not be required to take an examination under the rules and regulations of the limited practitioners' act the same as some dozen other branches of medicine. He declared no showing had ever been made of any prejudice on the part of the state medical board and in giving an outline of the limited practitioners act, pointed out that the penalty was a fine from $25 to $500 and argued that a fine be assessed sufficient to cause the defendants to realize the necessity of observing the law in the future.

"In Jail For Principle."

"I had a very fair trial under a very unfair and un-American law," said Dr. Knechtly when seen at the county jail soon after his commitment. "We refused to pay our fine because the law provides that all fines collected under this law are paid to the state medical board. Should we pay a fine instead of going to jail, that fine would be turned over to the state medical board and used to employ more inspectors who in turn would bring about the arrest of more or less brother practitioners. You see the medical men through the law which they jammed through the legislature, have fixed it so that by paying our fines we not only dig our own graves but pay our 'own funeral expenses' as well."

"If the state medical board wanted to be fair and is unselfish in its action against us Chiropractors, why was our arrest postponed until after the Homestead hospital drive had been completed? We charge that the board is persecuting rather than prosecuting us."

"We Chiropractors are willing and anxious to take an examination to prove our qualifications as practitioners but we are unwilling to submit ourselves to our competitors to allow them to pass upon such qualifications; we want a board of Chiropractic examiners to examine chiropractors. Surely this is not unreasonable and if the medical men wanted to be fair they would not object to such a board. The druggists, the dentists and the veterinarians have such a board. Why not Chiropractors? Why should medical doctors who know nothing about our science be allowed to examine us? Would they be willing to allow us to examine them? Certainly not."

"Dr. Owen, my wife and myself are in jail for a principle. You know there is a lot of difference between going to jail for a crime and going to jail for a principle."

Daily Vacation Bible School News

Already nine Daily Vacation Bible Schools are in sight for Portsmouth this summer, beginning on Monday morning, June 11th and closing July 4th. We will witness the largest number of school this summer in Portsmouth of any previous year in the history of the movement. This will mean the greatest number of leaders ever enlisted in this type of work.

One reason is the fact that three schools will be conducted by each local organization and in its own building, instead of in groups as in former years. Each of these schools however will be open for other children to enter and it is hoped and expected that a number of children will take advantage of this generous invitation to attend the school closest to them or to the one of their choice.

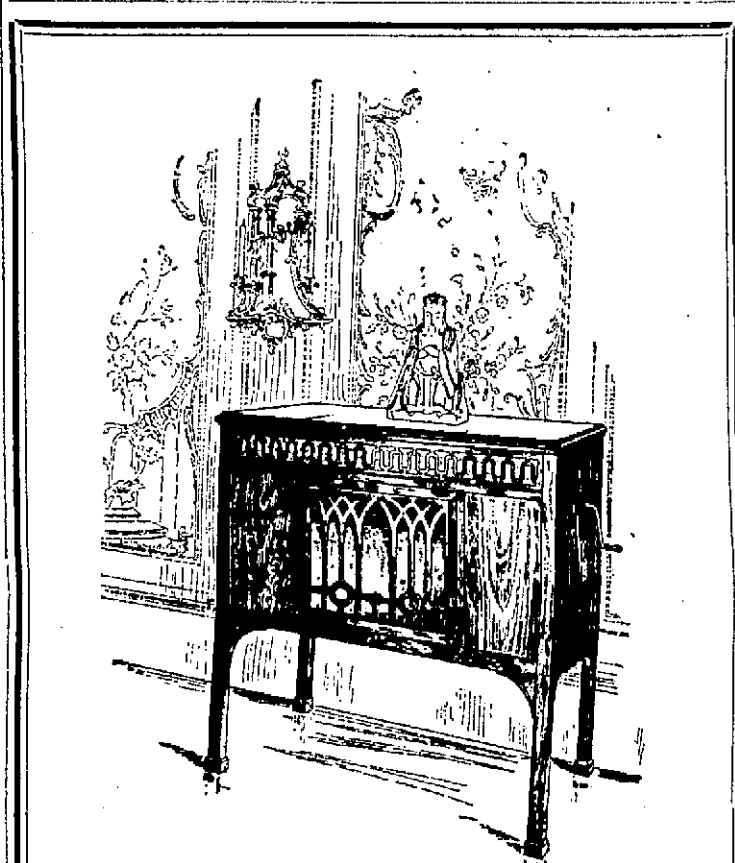

The following schools have definitely decided to conduct a school this summer covering the above period of time:

First Presbyterian, Second Presbyterian, Manly M. E., Trinity M. E., Franklin Avenue M. E., Schuetteville M. E., and the First Christian. The First United Brethren is contemplating beginning a week later so as to close at the same time. Calvary Baptist always conducts a school, and no doubt will do so again this summer.

Other schools are making inquiries. If there are other schools that are thinking of entering, please notify the Director, Mr. E. E. Barnhart of the Sunday School Association, 37-38 Turley Bldg., who will be more than glad to help where help is desired and needed. Make your wants known to him.

Could Be Sentenced To Imprisonment
CINCINNATI—Judge Charles W. Hoffman, in domestic relations court, ruled man once sentenced for contempt of court in failing to pay alimony due could be sentenced to imprisonment upon conviction second time on same offense.

B'rith Abraham Hiss Name Of Ford; Declare He Is Backing Ku Klux Klan

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 29—After an exciting scene in which the name of Henry Ford was "hissed and booed," delegates attending the annual session of the independent B'rith Abraham today adopted a resolution criticizing him for his alleged attacks on Jews of the nation, assailing his Presidential aspirations and accusing him of being a financial backer of the Ku Klux Klan. The measure was adopted without dissenting vote, after speakers sponsoring it had been loudly cheered.

The resolution declares: "Be it resolved, that the order B'rith Abraham now in session go on record as follows: "That the delegates assembled condemn Henry Ford for his attitude against the Jews as un-American, and that his candidacy for President is an insult to the fundamentals upon which this country is based."

"Further, be it resolved, that this convention accuses Ford of being the financial backer of the Ku Klux Klan who approve of their unpatriotic exploitation against the Jews, Catholics, negroes and foreigners."

Ading Grand Master Morris M. Green, of New York, discussing the measure said:

"We feel that Ford is behind the Ku Klux Klan and we are glad to join with our Catholic brethren in fighting him and it."

Baptists in Session
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 29—Re-establishment of David's Kingdom of Israel by the Baptists as a necessary preliminary toward the second coming of Christ was proposed at the Northern Baptist convention today by Emory Davis, of Kaua, Penna., who advocated a Baptist exodus to Palestine.

"I will urge the appointment of a committee to confer with me and investigate the merits of the movement, Mr. Davis said."

Lips, Sealed By Threats, Tell Story Of The West Virginia Armed March
CHARLESTON, W. VA., May 29—Advice of counsel and union officials "not to tell more than he had to," reinforced by a threat that he would be "killed" on the witness stand, sealed the lips of the Rev. J. E. Wilburn, mountaineer preacher, of Blair, when he took the witness stand at the "armed march" trials at Charleston several months ago, he declared today in the Federal court hearing in 12 injunction cases against the United Mine Workers.

Heretofore unswerving testimony of the party they took in the march was given by many after men, the most picturesque among them being the Rev. Wilburn, under penitentiary sentence of 11 years for his part in the slaying of John Gore, Logan County Deputy Sheriff, killed in the battles in which the famous march culminated.

Details Story of Raid
The gun-carrying preacher of the mountains detailed for the first time his experiences during the march and declared that, when he was tried on a murder charge at Charleston, he had not told the whole story because Harold W. Houston, chief counsel in this district for the union, C. Frank Keeny, District President, and Wilburn Blizard, Sub-district President, against all of whom indictments have been brought, asked him "to tell no more than he had to." Houston and Keeny "promised they'd get me out of it," Wilburn said.

Rev. A. K. Murphy Sells His West Side Farm To S. Coles Peebles For $66,000

One of the most important farm deals closed in Scioto county for sometime, was consummated Tuesday when S. Coles Peebles, president of the Belfont Iron Works Co., of Ironton, came into possession of Rev. A. K. Murphy's farm on the West Side near Rushburn.

The deal was recorded in Mr. Peebles' name this afternoon by Attorney Judge George M. Osborn, after all the details of the deal were successfully ironed out. The consideration was $66,000.

The Murphy farm, long considered one of the best in Scioto county, embraces 450 acres. It is located north of Brush Creek and on one side it extends to the river farm and lies on both sides of the road. There are about 200 acres of bottom land and the rest is fine grazing land, partially timber.

After acquiring this farm Mr. Peebles announced that he would again become a resident of Scioto county, and would take charge of the farm and would engage in stock raising on an extensive scale. The deal includes the present home occupied by Rev.

and Mrs. A. K. Murphy, and Mr. Peebles and family will occupy it later on. It was stated today, Mr. Peebles has been anxious to engage in cattle raising and purposes to raise only pedigreed stock, stock that will be a credit to Scioto county.

He loves the out door life and will devote a lot of his time to looking after his new farm. Mr. Peebles and family have a host of friends here who will be pleased to learn that they will return to Scioto county.

Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Murphy have not shaped their future plans definitely, but expect to spend some time with relatives in California.

Talent Of Holy Redeemer Pupils Reflected In Rendition Of Delightful Program

A large and appreciative audience assembled in the Portsmouth High School Auditorium last evening, where the music pupils of the Holy Redeemer school and a few of the private pupils of Miss Martha McGuirk, the efficient supervisor of music, delighted their hearers with an interesting and artistic program of music, song and expression.

The piano numbers rendered reflected credit upon the teacher, and well merited praise and applause were showered upon the performers. The vocal numbers were also well received, as the singers possess voices of lovely quality, which they used with exquisite taste as well as with a very fine conception of the art of singing.

At the conclusion of each selection rendered throughout the evening there was not given, as is so often the case, a polite applause, but each number was followed by a real genuine bit of enthusiastic applause, demanding more. Miss McGuirk is to be congratulated over the progress made by her pupils, and the public feels deeply appreciative of the delightful musical numbers given for their enjoyment last evening.

An added feature to the program was the vocal number given by Miss Grace Kirby of Ashland, Ky., a former pupil of Miss McGuirk. Miss Mary Margaret Kean, who was to have appeared on the program in a piano and voice number, was detained at home on account of an attack of tonsillitis. The following program was rendered:

Anna Gould's Son Weds French Beauty

Comte de Castellane and bride, Mrs. Anna Gould.

The marriage of Comte Georges de Castellane, son of the Duchess of Tallard-Pefferd, formerly Anna Gould, daughter of Jay Gould, American multi-millionaire, to Senorita Fernandez, was celebrated in the Church of Saint Honor d'Eliau, and was one of the fashionable events of the season in Paris. The bride, daughter of Senor Juan Antonio Fernandez, who is prominent in the Argentine colony in Paris, is a striking beauty.

Fake Spirit Seance Exposed By Science

NEW YORK, May 29.—(By the United Press)—An intricate electrical detector proved the false origin of spirit communication at a recent test, before a board of jurors, the Scientific American announced today. The magazine having offered a reward of $5,000 to any spiritualist who could baffle this select jury with special delivered messages from the spirits declared the first medium had failed entirely. Stenographers and an electric light attachments to the mediums' chair revealed that every time the medium moved about the room the special messages came. By timing the dictaphone and the electric attachment, the special investigators traced every movement of spiritualist in the darkness. By the hidden device it was proven the Philadelphia mediums' medium, the weakest team in either league, won a double-header from the ambitious Boston Braves, 6 to 4 and 11 to 2.

Other reversals included that given Pittsburgh by Chicago, 5 to 4 in 11 innings. St. Louis defeated Cincinnati, 5 to 4 in 11 innings, making up ground lost to Pittsburgh last week. The hammer and tens battle between Brooklyn and New York which the Robins won 8 to 7, was also a topsy turvy affair. The Giants have shown previously the most nearly impregnable form in either league. It was the fourth defeat in six starts for Jack Bentley, the $55,000 star purchased from Baltimore.

Aviators Honored
DAYTON, O., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Back 1909, among friends and brother officers in the Dayton army air corps, a group of men who saw them rise to fame through record breaking achievements in mastery of the air. Lieutenants John A. MacLeamy and Oakley G. Kelly today were awaiting their orders to proceed to Washington, where President Harding will bestow upon them congratulations in behalf of the nation.

Dayton aviators bowed at the feet of the "boys" last night. At a testimonial dinner attended by 1,500 men and women, Lieutenant Kelly told of their record-breaking non-stop flight from New York to San Diego. Other speakers included Senator S. D. Foss and Congressman Roy G. Fitzgerald. The dinner was sponsored by the Dayton American Legion.

The aviators, flying the record-breaking T-2, landed at McCook Field at 8:35 last night, coming from Scott Field, Ill. Half an hour later they were ushered into Memorial Hall where the crowd, anxious and cheered for several minutes. MacLeamy was presented with a silver flying cup by 4,000 members of the A. M. C. A. Both were given huge bouquets of flowers.

Prior to the arrival of the flyers, Dayton people witnessed a spectacular air circus, staged by McCook and Wilton Wright field pilots. Yesterday afternoon was declared a holiday by proclamation of Mayor Hale, and many persons visited the two flying fields.

MacLeamy and Kelly expect to leave Dayton either today or tomorrow. They are to be in Washington by June 1.

FOREST FIRES SWEEP MINNESOTA TIMBER

ST. PAUL, MINN., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—More than 500 men, including forest rangers, are battling with forest and brush fires in Northern Minnesota with rain, the only medium for completely extinguishing the blazes, promised for late today or tomorrow. Reports to W. T. Cox, state forester, are that the situation is becoming serious with scores of fires burning in a district north of a line extending westward from Duluth to Leech Lake. Most of the fires are on cut over lands.

In the Iron range forest district there are between 15 and 20 fires burning, all the way from Fall Lake and Vermilion Lake to Coleraine and Grand Rapids. The most threatening blazes, in the vicinity of Park Rapids and Itasca State Park are keeping 100 men busy. One bad fire in the Kabetogama Peninsula between Kabetogama Lake and Rainy Lake, causes concern to forestry officials, but that section is sparsely settled. A fire at Kellier was stopped just as it reached the village limits. The Bergville school house and several million feet of logs are reported burned in that section. In the vicinity of Black Duck Lake a dozen fires are burning within a fifty square mile area.

Menacing blazes in the sand lake districts have been brought under control. The state forester's office yesterday issued orders prohibiting issuance of burning permits in the north woods until there has been a heavy rain.

Bender Act Breaks The Backbone Of Moonshining

COLUMBUS, O., May 29.—(By the United Press)—The Bender act in effect a week is breaking the back of the moonshine industry in Ohio. B. F. McDonald, state prohibition director, declared today. Fear of the penalty is acting as a brake in operation of illicit stills, McDonald said. The Bender act which provides punitive terms instead of fines for liquor making already has greatly reduced the number of raids in which stills are confiscated. Before the Bender act became effective, the moonshiners of stills were reported daily. One day we found 10. Now we are finding very few. In six months illicit stills in Ohio will have become a rarity.

WEAKNESS IN SELF-PITY Can Properly Be Set Down Not Only as a Bad Habit but a Poisonous One.

Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pining themselves? If so, you can put them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity. They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively. They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self-help that they have no time to waste on self-pity.

Self-pity is not only a bad habit; it is a poisonous habit. It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice no human being can qualify to go far or rise high. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and discouragements; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear our occasional streaks of pessimism on our sleeve or on our countenance. We keep a stiff upper lip. We wrestle on. And we smile on. We don't become cry babies. We may inwardly wince, but we don't flinch. We don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have troubles enough of their own.

We refuse to be cowards. We refuse to wear the weak feather. We strive to be men. We become men. We are men.—Berles Magazine.

MELODY LIFE OF MUSIC

No Training So Complete or Thorough Will Suffice Without It, According to Master.

What gives life to a work, what makes it true, will never be its characteristics, polytonal or atonal, but rather, its essential melody. Thence springs its real power, because it comes straight from the heart of the musician. There is no training so complete or so thorough that it can suffice without that melodic source, Darius Milhaud writes in the American Review. It is the primary element, the authentic organic one, that comes from the pure sentiment itself and that is conducive to rhythmic and harmonic design. Without melody all composing will fall or end in vain rhetoric, quite conventional and empty. It is the entire secret of music, which I found one day when I was studying at the conservatoire with my master, Andre Gide.

I was showing him some vast symphonic plan or other and he said to me: "Just write for me eight measures that can be played without any accompaniment."

Melody is thus our aim and great ambition. It alone will allow us to work by our imagination and not keep close to the tradition which we feel to be ours.

Strike Movement Spreads Throughout Ruhr: French Forced To Intervene To Check Trouble

ESSEN, May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The entire strike movement is spreading throughout the Ruhr and fresh walkouts among the metal workers and miners are reported in nearly unoccupied territory.

A general strike called at Hamborn is affecting the iron works there, belonging to the Stines interests. Communist manifestos at Wuppertal are threatening that the French will force the first time, as a result of which the demonstration collapsed.

The sale of alcoholic liquor has been prohibited in the entire disturbed area by the German authorities, but the regulation is not being greatly observed.

Fire Houses Stormed
The Communists in Hamm extended their position today, but the city firemen and civilian volunteers, wearing white arm-bands, still hold the fire houses. The Communists for the third time stormed this position at daylight today, the fighting lasting more than an hour.

The shooting was heaviest since the siege began, but only a few casualties are reported. The main attack of the Reds was from the railroad viaduct crossing, the street near the fire house, where they took up their position at dawn, using rifles and revolvers. The defenders found refuge behind barricades and drove off the enemy.

Reds in Part Control
At the same time the Reds delivered attacks in the streets leading to fire-house square. The firemen have an observation post in a small steel tower, where often times they are sniped by the Reds to pick off "white" lookouts failed. Further attacks are expected to-night and, in the meantime, the Reds are in control of the western part of the town, the factory district, the whites holding the business quarter, and where the banks and chief shops are located. The shopkeepers in the working district were taken as hostages.

The Communist efforts at Dueseldorf to reduce prices were blocked by the report that security police are proceeding to that place, in consequence of which the control commission had abandoned.

ESSEN, May 29 (By the Associated Press)—Disorders in the Ruhr on account of the strikes and Communist activities appears at present to be centered in Dortmund, where the inhabitants passed a night of terror and the Communist elements today were still striving for the upper hand. Workers' guards took up positions in the streets and searched all passers ostensibly for firearms, but many complained that their money and valuables had been taken. Nervous fights grew out of the searching and a large number of persons were hurt.

The terroristic methods at Dortmund were preceded by a bitter fighting between the Communists and blue police at a nearby mine, where Communist emissaries tried to induce the pumpmen to leave so that the mine would be flooded. Police attacked the Communist forces and drove them away, after two of the police were killed and 11 wounded, one fatally. Communists left two dead on the field and carried many wounded away with them. They were armed with hand grenades, which they used effectively, the police reported. The strike is spreading into the Rhineland. At Duisburg, the metal workers went out today. The situation at Hamborn is so serious that the authorities have prohibited the sale of alcoholic drinks. Communist centers are considered similar action.

At Dueseldorf the security police had a clash today with strikers' street car and gas works employees in which one workman was killed and a number were wounded.

"Money" by Truckload
ESSEN, May 29.—Sixteen trucks were required to carry away the 32,000,000,000 paper marks seized by the French from the branch of the Reichsbank yesterday guarded by armored cars, the money which is the equivalent of about $200,000,000, was taken to Dueseldorf and sent by train to Mayence. The French will apply these funds to the costs of the Army of Occupation.

Leaving Comes High
NEW YORK, May 29.—Living Germany is cheap, but leaving is expensive, said Charles South, Portland Ore., musician, who returned in the steerage of the steamship Ohio today, having been taxed out of money he had reserved for his class passage.

South, who has been studying music in Berlin for two years, said that when he prepared to leave, he was classed as a "resident" and enough to have extracted from him a heavy tax on all his expatriation in Germany—including a tax on taxes he had paid as a non-resident.

When he tried to get back the amount he had paid as a non-resident, he said, he was met with the advice that it could not be returned. "It is the law," they told him, and he had to let it go at that.

Man Held To Grand Jury At Vanceburg Escapes Through Crowded Courtroom

VANCEBURG, KY., May 29.—Saturday night after church John Henry Tolle, better known as "Tiny," had some words with Herbert Carrington, which resulted in Carrington being knocked or thrown down and more or less badly beaten. At the same time Mrs. Nellie Hornbark, wife was trying to separate the combatants, was bowled over by a sweep of "Tiny's" arm. On getting up, Mrs. Hornbark threw a rock with such force that it cut a large gash in Tolle's head.

After that Tolle struck Mrs. Hornbark and then proceeded on his way home. The trouble occurred near a bridge in "State Holder."

A warrant was obtained for Tolle and he was arrested before 8 o'clock. Tolle was held in the jail house held Tolle to the grand jury and fixed his bond at $2,000, also placed him under $100 bond to keep the peace.

While the officers, several witnesses and quite a crowd of spectators were standing in the courtroom about him, Tolle suddenly made a break for liberty.

who were in his way aside his straw, the powerful young fellow passed out of the door and was like a flash around the court house out of sight, before the officers any one realized what was happening. He made good his escape. No trace of his whereabouts has been obtained.

Memorial Program Will Be Held In Park
Free motion pictures and community singing will feature the community celebration which will take place on Mount Park, Decoration Day evening at 8 o'clock, weather permitting. This public celebration will be observed under the auspices of the James Dugan Post, American Legion, Bureau of Community Service and the Park Commission.

Captain Gary Williams yesterday evening stated that official war pictures of the Thirty-seventh (Ohio) Division filmed in France during the World War would be shown on this screen for the first time in Ohio. These pictures were taken by the Signal Corps and are absolutely the best fighting pictures ever shown. Other pictures taken by the State Department of Health will also be shown.

A special memorial service will also be held—a silent tribute to those who gave their all on the poppy-strewn fields of France. Rev. E. A. Powell will give Lincoln's Gettysburg speech. The music is in the hands of Mrs. L. Albert MacCorkle, who will also be furnished by R. P. Seiler.

Home Beautiful Show Opens Sunday June 3

Three Homes Furnished In Elegant Style; Inspection Is Free To The Public

It is my belief that the "Home Beautiful Show," to be staged in connection with the Better Homes Week, June 3 to 10th, will furnish an opportunity for prospective home builders and students to learn what the market is doing today, said Peter Warsaw, manager of the Lewis Furniture Co., today.

Furniture can be exclusive at reasonable prices. The execution of ideas in home building does not cost a big outlay of money, for it necessitates good taste and selection, and I believe that an inspection of the model homes put on for this demonstration will go a long way towards bringing these things for the home, to all.

The three model homes will open Sunday at 2 o'clock for public inspection. They will be open daily during the week, June 3 to 10th. The locations are: 1222 Second street; 1026 Twentieth street, and 1513 Kinney's Lane.

George H. Bricker, secretary of the Ohio Retail Furniture Dealers' Association, attended the regular weekly meeting of the Portsmouth Retail Furniture Dealers' Association last night at the Mary Louise.

In his talk to the local men, Bricker said that he considered the inauguration of the Better Homes Week Campaign in Portsmouth, was one of the greatest steps ever taken by any city for the betterment of home and civic life.

Denies Rumors Of Searching Autos

Mayor W. E. Newberry of New Boston today said that he wanted to stop the rumor that he was directing New Boston police officers to have been stopping many machines and searching them for intoxicating liquor. He says that only two machines have been searched recently by village officers and that moonshine was found in both instances. The rumor, according to Mayor Newberry, had it that the village officers had even stopped the machines of several prominent business men of Portsmouth and had searched them.

Mayor Newberry says that Chief of Police William Conley and his deputies are not searching machines without knowing what they are doing. He said that there may be other officers in the vicinity who are doing such a thing, but that he does not even believe this situation exists.

Public Switching In Court House Yard

A public switching was administered to Claude Lindamood in the court house yard today by his father, Harlow Lindamood. His father was in private court with him and when Judge N. B. Gilliland suggested a good spanking, the father took his son into the court house yard, secured a switch from a nearby tree and applied it freely.

Lawrence and Marshall Hammond and Charles Monk, also in court with the Lindamood boys, were released from a lecture. All were in court on truancy charges filed by School Attendance Officer Harry Wagner.

Ex-Empress Zita Faces Starvation

A dispatch from Paris declares ex-Empress Zita, of Austria, is living almost like an outcast near Vienna, where she went from Spain, where she had accepted for a time the hospitality of King Alfonso, the only one of her royal relatives to come to her assistance. Zita's entire resources are less than $5,000, and that was obtained by selling the remainder of the imperial wine cellars in Hungary. When that is exhausted she will have to turn to dressmaking for a living.

You never miss the water till the well runs dry

Suppose, tomorrow, all newspapers were discontinued. What a furor would be created. For we must have news!

Or suppose, that beginning tomorrow, the newspapers stopped running advertisements. We would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports and activities of the police and criminals of one sort or another, add little to our comfort and happiness in this age of enlightenment.

Without advertising we would remain in total ignorance of much that concerns us vitally—news of the things that have to do with the personal, every-day life of each one of us.

Some one might be selling a new, better and more economical food, or a utensil that would add immeasurably to our comfort and well-being, or some material for making shoes or clothing—but we would never know it.

Modern advertising has made and is making the world better housed, better fed, better clothed. It has increased the world's capacity for things that elevate, improve and idealize the important business of living. It is a big, vital force in fostering convenient, and comfortable life. Without its direction we would overlook much and therefore lose much.

Don't fail to take advantage of advertising. It will prove invaluable to you.

Irene Castle Favors Modesty Belt

Modesty, bumper

Before sailing for Europe, Irene Castle Tremaine, widow of the late Vernon Castle, experienced such disgust at dances she had seen in the Middle West that she expressed a decided favor for the "modesty belt," a French invention. It consists of spiked belts for women, which keep their male partners at a respectful distance. The new belt, which has just been introduced into Chicago, is worn by Miss Bee Thompson.

Rev. A. K. Murphy Sells His West Side Farm To S. Coles Peebles For $66,000

One of the most important farm deals closed in Scioto county for some time, was consummated Tuesday when S. Coles Peebles, president of the Belfont Iron Works Co., of Ironton, came into possession of Rev. A. K. Murphy's farm on the West Side near Rushtown.

The deal was recorded in Mr. Peebles' name this afternoon by Attorney Judge George M. Osborn, after all the details of the deal were successfully ironed-out. The consideration was $66,000.

The Murphy farm, long considered one of the best in Scioto county, embraces 450 acres. It is located north of Brush Creek and on one side it extends to the Dyer farm and lies on both sides of the road. There are about 200 acres of bottom land and the rest is fine grazing land, partially timbered.

After acquiring this farm Mr. Peebles became a resident of Scioto county, and would take charge of the farm and would engage in stock raising on an extensive scale. The deal includes the present home occupied by Rev.

and Mrs. A. K. Murphy, and Mr. Peebles and family will occupy it later on. It was stated today that Mr. Peebles has been anxious to engage in cattle raising and purposes to raise only pedigreed stock, stock that will be a credit to Scioto county.

He loves the out door life and will devote all of his time to looking after his new farm. Mr. Peebles and family have a host of friends here who will be pleased to learn that they will return to Scioto county.

Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Murphy have not shaped their future plans definitely, but expect to spend some time with relatives in California.

Talent Of Holy Redeemer Pupils Reflected In Rendition Of Delightful Program

A large and appreciative audience assembled in the Portsmouth High School Auditorium last evening, where the music pupils of the Holy Redeemer school and a few of the private pupils of Miss Martha McGuirk, the efficient supervisor of music, delighted their hearers with an interesting and artistic program of music, song and expression.

The piano numbers rendered reflected credit upon the teacher, and well merited praise and applause were showered upon the performers. The vocal numbers were also well received, as the singers possess voices of lovely quality, which they used with exquisite taste as well as with a very fine conception of the art of singing.

At the conclusion of each selection rendered throughout the evening there was not given, as is so often the case, a polite applause, but each number was followed by a real genuine bit of enthusiastic applause, the rendering more.

Miss McGuirk is to be congratulated over the progress made by her pupils, and the public feels deeply appreciative of the delightful musical numbers given for their enjoyment last evening.

An added feature to the program was the vocal number given by Miss Grace Kirby of Ashland, Ky., a former pupil of Miss McGuirk. Miss Kirby appeared on the program in a piano and voice number, was detained at home on account of an attack of tonsillitis. The following program was rendered:

FEATURES OF YES TERDAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, May 29.—It was the underdog's day—a day of reversals—in the major leagues yesterday for the teams that played, all the leaders except the New York Yankees receiving setbacks and the Yankees and the other American League clubs did not play.

The Philadelphia Athletics, after taking two out of three from the New York Yankees, were pegged by the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 6, and the lowly Philadelphia Quakers, perhaps the weakest team in either league, won a double-header from the ambitious Boston Braves, 6 to 4 and 11 to 2.

Aviators Honored

DAYTON, O., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Back home among friends and brother officers, among those who saw them rise to fame through record breaking achievements in mastery of the air, Lieutenant John A. MacReady and Oakley G. Kelly today were awaiting flying orders to proceed to Washington where President Harding will bestow upon them their congratulations in behalf of the nation.

Dayton citizens bowed at the feet of her "boys" last night. At a testimonial dinner attended by 1,500 men and women, Lieutenant Kelly told of their record-breaking nonstop flight from New York to San Diego. Other speakers included Senator S. D. Fessenden and Congressman Roy C. Fitzgerald. The dinner was sponsored by the Dayton American Legion.

The aviators, flying the record holding T-2, landed at McCook Field at 8:15 last night, coming from Scott Field, Ill. Half an hour later they were ushered into Memorial Hall where the crowd arose and cheered for several minutes. MacReady was presented with a silver loving cup by fellow members of the U. S. A. Both were given huge bouquets of flowers.

Prior to the arrival of the flyers, Dayton people witnessed a spectacular air circus, staged by McCook and Wilton Wright Field pilots. Yesterday afternoon was declared a holiday by proclamation of Mayor Hale, and many persons visited the two flying boys.

MacReady and Kelly expect to leave Dayton either today or tomorrow. They are to be in Washington by June 1.

FOREST FIRES SWEEP MINNESOTA TIMBER

ST. PAUL, MINN., May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—More than 500 men, including forest rangers, are battling with forest and brush fires in Northern Minnesota with rain, the only medium for completely extinguishing the blazes, promised for late today or tomorrow. Reports to W. T. Cox, state forester, are that the situation is becoming serious with scores of fires burning in a district north of Duluth to Torch Lake. Most of the fires are on cut over lands.

In the iron range forest district there are between 15 and 20 fires burning, all the way from Fall Lake and Vermilion Lake to Coleraine and Grand Rapids. The most threatening blazes, in the vicinity of Park Rapids and Itasca State Park are keeping 100 men busy.

One bad fire in the Kabetogoma Peninsula between Kabetogoma Lake and Rainy Lake, causes concern to forestry officials, but that section is sparsely settled.

A fire at Kellier was stopped just as it reached the village limits. The Borgville school house and several million feet of logs are reported burned in that section. In the vicinity of Black Duck Lake a dozen fires are burning within a fifty square mile area.

Menacing blazes in the sand lake districts have been brought under control.

The state forester's office yesterday issued orders prohibiting issuance of burning permits in the north woods until there has been a heavy rain.

Bender Act Breaks The Backbone Of Moonshining

COLUMBUS, O., May 29.—(By the United Press)—The Bender act in effect a week is breaking the back of the moonshine industry in Ohio. E. P. McDonald, state prohibition director, declared today. Fear of the penalty is acting as a brake in operation of illicit stills, McDonald said. The Bender act which provides penal terms instead of fines for liquor making already has greatly reduced the number of stills in which stills are confiscated. Before the Bender act became effective, the moonshining of stills was reported daily. One day we found 19 now we are finding very few. In six months illicit stilling in Ohio will have become a rarity.

WEAKNESS IN SELF-PITY

Can Properly Be Set Down Not Only as a Bad Habit but a Poisonous One.

Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pitying themselves? If so, you can put them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity. They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively. They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self-help that they have no time to waste on self-pity.

Self-pity is not only a bad habit; it is a poisonous habit. It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice no human being can qualify to go far or rise far. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and setbacks. We are all thwarted. We all have ambitions thwarted. But we do not let discouragements discourage; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear our occasional streaks of pessimism on our sleeve or on our countenance. We keep a stiff upper lip.

We wrestle on. And we smile on. We inwardly rejoice, but we don't flinch. We don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have troubles enough of their own.

We refuse to be cowards. We refuse to wear the white feather. We strive to be men. We become men. We are men.—Forbes Magazine.

MELODY LIFE OF MUSIC

No Training So Complete or Thorough Will Suffice Without It, According to Master.

What gives life to a work, what makes it true, will never be its characteristics, polytonal or atonal, but, rather, its essential melody. Hence comes straight from the heart of the musician. There is no training so complete or so thorough that it can suffice without that melody. Darius Milhaud writes in the North American Review. It is the primary element, the authentic organic one, that comes from the pure sentiment itself and that is conducive to rhythmic and harmonic design.

Without melody all composing will fall or end in vain rhetoric, quite contented and empty. It is the entire secret of music, which I found out one day when I was studying at the conservatory with my master, Andre Gedalge. I was showing him some vast symphonic plan or other, and he said to me:

"Just write for me eight measures that can be played without any accompaniment."

Melody is thus our aim and greatest ambition. It alone will allow us to work by our imagination and yet keep close to the tradition which we feel to be ours.

Strike Movement Spreads Throughout Ruhr: French Forced To Intervene To Check Trouble

ESSEN, May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The entire strike movement is spreading throughout the Ruhr and fresh walkouts among the metal workers and miners are reported in near-by unoccupied territory.

A general strike called at Hamburg is affecting the iron works there, but according to the Ruhr news, the Communist movement in Wuppertal is threatening that the French intervention for the first time, as a result of which the demonstration collapsed.

The sale of alcoholic liquor has been prohibited in the entire district under the German authorities, but the regulation is not being greatly observed.

Fire Houses Stormed
The Communist fire houses extended their position today, but the city firemen and civilian volunteers, wearing white arm-bands, still hold the fire houses. The Communists for the third time stormed this position at daylight today, the fighting lasting more than an hour.

The shooting was heaviest since the siege began, but only a few casualties are reported. The main attack of the Reds was from the railroad viaduct crossing, the street near the fire house, where they took up their position at dawn, using rifles and revolvers. The defenders found refuge behind barricades and drove off the enemy.

Reds in Part Control
At the same time the Reds delivered attacks in the streets leading to firehouse square. The firemen have an observation post in a small steel tower, where ordinarily hose is stored. Attempts by the Reds to pick off "white" lookouts failed. Further attacks are expected to-night and, in the meantime, the Reds are in control of the western part of the town, the factory district, the whites holding the business quarter, and where the banks and chief shops are located. The shopkeepers in the occupied district were taken as hostages, and other shopkeepers will likely be seized unless food prices are reduced.

The Communist efforts at Dueseldorf to reduce prices were blocked by the report that security police are proceeding to that place, in consequence of which the control commission had abandoned.

ESSEN, May 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Disorder in the Ruhr, an account of the strikes and Communist activities appears at present to be centered in Dortmund, where the inhabitants passed a night of terror and the Communist elements today were still striving for the upper hand. Workers' guards there took up positions in the streets and searched all passersby ostensibly for firearms, but many complained that their money and valuables had been taken.

Numerous fights grew out of the searching and a large number of persons were hurt. The terroristic methods at Dortmund were preceded by a bitter fighting between the Communists and blue police at a near-by mine, where Communist emissaries tried to induce the pumpmen to leave so that the mine would be flooded. Police attacked the Communist forces and took the mine away, after two of the men were killed and 11 wounded. One fatally. Communists left two dead on the field and carried many wounded away with them. They were armed with hand grenades, which they used effectively, the police reported. The strike is spreading into the Rhineland. At Duisburg the metal workers went out today. The situation at Hamburg is so serious that the authorities have prohibited the sale of alcoholic drinks. Other industrial centers are considering similar action.

At Dueseldorf the security police had a clash today with striking street car and gas works employees in which one workman was killed and a number were wounded.

"Money" by Truckload
ESSEN, May 29.—Sixteen motor trucks were required to carry away the 32,000,000,000 paper marks and 17,000 pieces of German silver money seized by the French from the local branch of the Reichsbank yesterday. Guarded by armed cars, the money, which is the equivalent of about $2,000,000, was taken to Dueseldorf and sent by train to Mayence. The French will apply these funds to the costs of the Army of Occupation.

Leaving Comes High
NEW YORK, May 29.—Living in Germany is cheap, but leaving is expensive, said Charles South, Portland, Ore., musician, who returned in the steamer ship Ohio today, having been taxed out of the money he had reserved for his class passage.

South, who has been studying music in Berlin for two years, said that when he prepared to leave, he was charged as a "resident" because he had been in Germany for so long, enough to have extracted from him a heavy tax on all his expenditures in Germany—including a tax on taxes he had paid as a non-resident. When he tried to get back the assessors he had paid as a non-resident, he said, he was met with shrugs and the advice that it could not be done. "It is the law," they told him, and he had to let it go that.

Man Held To Grand Jury At Vanceburg Escapes Through Crowded Courtroom

VANCEBURG, KY., May 29.—Saturday night after church John Henry Tolle, better known as "Tiny", had some words with Herbert Carrington, which resulted in Carrington being knocked or thrown down and more or less badly beaten. At the same time Mrs. Nellie Hornbeck, who was trying to separate the combatants, was bowled over by a sweep of "Tiny's" arm. On getting up, Mrs. Hornbeck threw a rock with such force that it cut a large gash in Tolle's head.

After that Tolle struck Mrs. Hornbeck and then proceeded on his way home. The trouble occurred near a bridge in "State Holler". A warrant was obtained for "Tiny" and he was arraigned before Judge Geo. Lykens this morning at 8 o'clock, after hearing the evidence held Tolle to the jail and bailed him under $100 bond to keep the peace.

While the officers, several witnesses and quite a crowd of spectators were standing in the court room about him, Tolle suddenly made a break for liberty. Sweeping those who were in his way aside he passed out of the door and was gone like a flash around the court house out of sight, before the officers of any one realized what was happening. He made good his escape and no trace of his whereabouts has since been obtained.

Memorial Program Will Be Held In Park

Free motion pictures and community celebration which will take place on Mount Park, Decoration Day evening at 8 o'clock, weather permitting. This public celebration will be observed under the auspices of the James Dickey Post, American Legion, Bureau of Community Service and the Park Commission.

These pictures were taken by the Signal Corps and are absolutely the best fighting pictures ever shown. Other pictures taken by the State Department of Health will also be shown.

A special memorial service will also be held at 10 o'clock to those who gave their all on the poppy-strewn fields of France.

Rev. E. A. Powell will give Lincoln's Gettysburg speech. The music is in the hands of Mrs. L. Albert MacCorkle, who will also direct the community singing. One of the most impressive portions of the program will be the tableaux "Making the Flag," in which 40 or more children will participate.

This will inaugurate the first of a series of public celebrations patterned along the lines of similar observances in Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Valuable assistance has been rendered by H. H. Higgins of the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Company. The plans will be furnished by R. P. Seiler.

Kept Marriage A Secret For Year

ASHLAND, Ky., May 29.—Although they had been married a year, friends of Clint C. Moore, senior member of the firm of Moore & Eaton, and Miss Mayne Davidson, daughter of Dr. Davidson of 221 West Winchester avenue, today learned of the nuptials for the first time.

Plays Squash Tennis

NEW YORK, May 29.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., is keeping fit by playing squash tennis on top of a skyscraper. In his field, and in his power, he played the opening of a new outdoor court on top of the White Hall Building, near the home of Standard Oil. Besides impressing spectators with his well-knit physique he showed dexterity and speed in covering the court. He played 20 minutes and lost 16 to 13 to Walter Kiddle, New Jersey highway commissioner, who designed the court, one of the largest in the country. Rockefeller initiated the building of the court in order to have a handy place for his favorite exercise.

Home Beautiful Show Opens Sunday June 3

Three Homes Furnished In Elegant Style; Inspection Is Free To The Public

"It is my belief that the 'Home Beautiful Show,' to be staged in Portsmouth, in connection with the Better Homes Week, June 3 to 10th, will furnish an opportunity for prospective home builders and students to profit by learning what the markets and talents engaged in that work are producing today," said Peter Warsaw, manager of the Lewis Furniture Co., Tuesday.

"Furniture can be expensive at reasonable prices. The execution of good ideas in home building does not necessitate a big outlay of money. Rather it necessitates good taste and good selection, and I believe that an inspection of the model homes prepared for this demonstration will go a long way towards bringing these virtues to the fore, to all."

The three model homes will open Sunday at 2 o'clock for public inspection. They will be open daily during the week, June 3 to 10th. Remember the locations—422 Second street; 1038 Twentieth street, and 1313 Kinney's Lane.

George H. Bricker, secretary of the Ohio Retail Furniture Dealers' Association, attended the regular weekly meeting of the Portsmouth Retail Furniture Dealers' Association last night at the Mary Louise.

In his talk to the local men, Bricker said that he considered the inauguration of the Better Homes Week Campaign in Portsmouth was one of the greatest steps ever taken by any city for the betterment of home and civic life.

Denies Rumors Of Searching Autos

Mayor W. E. Newberry of New Boston today said that he wanted to spike the rumor that is being circulated that New Boston police officers have been stopping many machines and searching them for intoxicating liquor. He says that only two machines have been searched recently by village officers and that moonshine was found in both instances. The rumor, according to Mayor Newberry, had it that the village officers had even stopped the machines of several prominent business men of Portsmouth and had searched them.

Mayor Newberry says that Chief of Police William Conley and his deputies are not searching machines without knowing what they are doing. He said that there may be other officers in the vicinity who are doing such a thing, but that he does not even believe this situation exists.

Public Switching In Court House Yard

A public switching was administered to Claude Lindamood in the court house yard today by his father, Harlow Lindamood. His father was in probate court with him and when Judge N. R. Gilliland suggested a good spanking, the father took his son into the court house yard, secured a switch from a nearby tree and applied it freely.

Lawrence and Marshall Hammond and Charles Monk, also in court with the Lindamood boys, were released with a lecture. All were in court on truancy charges filed by School Attendance Officer Harry Wagner.

Irene Castle Favors Modesty Belt

Modesty bumper

Before sailing for Europe, Irene Castle, widow of the late Vernon Castle, experienced such disfavor at dances she had seen in the Middle West that she expressed a decided favor for the "modesty belt," a French invention. It consists of a spiked belt for women, which keeps their male partners at a respectful distance. The new belt, which has just been introduced into Chicago, is worn by Miss Bee Thompson.

Ex-Empress Zita Faces Starvation

A dispatch from Paris declares ex-Empress Zita, of Austria, is living almost like an outcast near Vienna, where she went from Spain, where she had accepted for a time the hospitality of King Alfonso, the only one of her royal relatives to come to her assistance. Zita's entire resources are less than $5,000, and that was obtained by selling the remainder of the Imperial wine cellars in Hungary. When that is exhausted she will have to turn to dressmaking for a living.

Machines Needed For War Veterans

Automobiles will be needed tomorrow to convey members of Bailey Post G. A. R. and other gallant sons in blue, to Green-

You never miss the water till the well runs dry

Suppose, tomorrow, all newspapers were discontinued. What a furore would be created. For we must have news!

Or suppose, that beginning tomorrow, the newspapers stopped running advertisements. We would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports and activities of the police and criminals of one sort or another, add little to our comfort and happiness in this age of enlightenment.

Without advertising we would remain in total ignorance of much that concerns us vitally—news of the things that have to do with the personal, every-day life of each one of us.

Some one might be selling a new, better and more economical food, or a utensil that would add immeasurably to our comfort and well-being, or some material for making shoes or clothing—but we would never know it.

Modern advertising has made and is making the world better housed, better fed, better clothed. It has increased the world's capacity for things that elevate, improve and idealize the important business of living. It is a big, vital force in fostering convenient, and comfortable life. Without its direction we would overlook much and therefore lose much.

Don't fail to take advantage of advertising. It will prove invaluable to you.

SHIFTY DANDO STOPS FRANKIE WELLS IN SECOND ROUND

CHILlicothe PRIDE IS OUTCLASSED;
LOCAL BOYS BEAT SPRINGFIELD LADS; WAS BIG NIGHT IN FISTIC CIRCLES

OVERS of plenty of action in boxing bouts had their fondest desires fulfilled last night at the third Legion boxing show when each of the five bouts bristled with action from start to finish without any wait between bouts.

"Shift" Dando, who has replaced "Nig" Blair as the pride of local fistic circles, was the star of the evening in the second round when Wells passed out via the knockout route. Two knockouts, two draws and one decision favored the boxing bill, one of the best ever staged in the city when it came to action in every bout.

It was also a big night for Portsmouth fighters who brought the biggest share of the victories to Portsmouth. Dando, by his smashing victory over Wells, Curley White, the blacksmith pugilist, who scored a knockout over Foss Foundree of Springfield in the third round of their six round go and Doc Price who won a decision over Wop Holcomb of Springfield, were the lads who upheld the honor of the Peerless City boxers.

Of course everybody was interested in the main go that brought together for a second time in Baesman's hall Dando and Wells. Dando has been training hard and went into the bout this time with a different attitude than usual. Also Frankie Wells moved about more cautiously but without result. Dando in his last match with Wells showed the visitor some mercy by not following up a number of chances to put him to sleep. He also caught him and held him up from the floor on more than one occasion. Not so, this time, for the Chilly sport writers had handed him the worst of it in his recent scrap and he went in this time determined to finish Wells just as quickly as possible. How he succeeded is a story easily told by fans who witnessed the "downfall of the idol of Ross county fistic circles."

Dando showed Wells no mercy this time and kept throwing into at his opponent's face and head so fast that Wells must have thought he was fighting the men instead of one. The fierce attack of Dando could not be stopped by Wells who wanted to take things easy, but who was not given a chance by the local lad who is fast as lightning.

Wells First To Lead
In the first round Dando was to the center of the ring and ready to meet Wells when the Ross county product came from his corner. No blows were exchanged for a few seconds and Wells was the first to commence hostilities. He reached out with a light jab that caused Dando to fly into a bit of action. Both then swung hard and fast with both landing. Wells then wanted to back away and rest a second or two but Dando would not give him any such chance and kept right after him and the result was a knockdown for Dando who swung a number of lefts and rights to Wells' head, the blows coming so fast that Wells could not protect himself. Wells dropped and the bell sounded at the end of five.

He was assisted to his chair, and was revived sufficiently to start the second round. At the sound of the going Dando was clear across the ring and was showering blows on Wells before he was hardly ready for action. That action showed Wells need not expect any mercy. Wells who knew he had Wells going his way after the first knockdown, Dando kept after Wells, who attempted to fall into frequent clinches. Wells had a habit of holding one of Dando's gloved hands under his arm but it proved costly for him, for Dando could use his other with telling effect at the same time on Wells' face. With the second round about half over Shifty tore in with some mighty rights and lefts, one following the other in rapid succession until Wells dropped like a log on the canvas. Wells took hold of the ropes and tried to help himself up but at the count of ten he was still on his knees and it would have been foolish for him to have tried to stay in the ring longer with Dando going at the clip he did in the first two rounds. Dando allowed Wells to land several blows during the two rounds just in time as he was. He was not given a chance by the local lad who is fast as lightning.

Doc Price Is There.
Doc Price showed a return to his old time form in winning a decision over Wop Holcomb of Springfield in their four round melee. Doc didn't get started till the third, but when he did he outlasted Wop till the end. Doc always gives the fans a good scrap and they were with him last night, judging by the way they greeted the announcement of his win over Holcomb.

PETALS MAKE TRIMMING
Chineries of silk or velvet flowers, or many silk petals used with no particular idea of suggesting flowers are seen on many of the smartest dinner and evening gowns.

PAINTED VELVETS
Painted velvets are shown for evening wear and made into charming negligees for the house. Usually the velvets are delicate in tone, and the colors applied are of the soft, pastel shades. Large flower patterns are most popular.

22 Drivers Qualify For Auto Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 29.—Twenty-two machines, having proved their right to compete in the annual 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow, were being torn down and rebuilt for the last time today. Four other cars, the remainder of the entries, were scheduled to take their speed trials late today. 22 drivers having qualified already.

The foreign contingent, with the exception of one machine, has met every trial, and the pre-race fans are considering these cars seriously as contenders for the leading positions. They have not displayed the speed of the American creations but they have given evidence of sturdiness and endurance. Three German cars and four French machines to date have qualified to start. Another French car will be hurled over the bricks this afternoon in an effort to average 80 miles an hour or better for ten miles—the required speed for participation.

The usual race crowd began pouring into the city yesterday and last night. Thousands visited the track yesterday and saw fourteen drivers put their cars through the qualifying trials. After witnessing the performances of the little racers, many persons expressed the opinion that last year's record time of 94 miles an hour would be bettered.

Foreign Boxers Don't Like To Take It
NEW YORK, May 29 (United Press).—Paul Sampson, Mike McTigue, who left the United States with little rep and some ambition, is back in this country with a little, quite a little money and a lot of opinions.

Sampson is the heavyweight champion of Germany. In the words of Sam Langford, who said after he won the heavyweight championship of Mexico: "It ain't so much, but it's sure!" Paul is admitting that his laurels won't get him much around American rings, but he's going back soon where they do.

"The fight game is booming in Germany, and I'm in on the ground floor. If I can't get a few matches around here I'm going right back."

Sampson would like to get a match with Mike McTigue or Gene Tunney. "McTigue may be the recognized light weight champion on this side, but everyone in Europe still regards Siki as the champion. He won seventeen rounds in the fight with McTigue, and no fighter ever earned a decision on three good rounds," he says.

While he was in Germany and Austria, Sampson won ten fights with knockouts and he piled up an accumulation of marks that will go a long way where he could buy hand-made shoes for the equivalent of two dollars and a banquet for twenty-five cents.

Sampson shipped over on the Reliance, and he got a discharge in Hamburg with a month's pay of twenty dollars. That was enough to keep him for two months in Germany, and he hit for Berlin, where he stumbled into a fight with Hans Breitenstrater, the German champion, and knocked him out.

After he had cleaned up all the German and Austrian fights he had a fight arranged with Siki, and was negotiating with Paris promoters for a fight with Carpenter, but he lost both matches when the French went in the Ruhr section.

"The boxing commission then put a ban on all bouts against French and Belgian boxers, and being as I am a German, I lost the chances for some good money," he said.

"This fellow Siki isn't as bad as you think on this side. He's just like a monkey. He acts like a fish and does all kinds of dissipation, but he's hard to figure," Sampson said to the United Press.

"Carpenter is all through. I doubt if he comes over here. I saw him one night in a cafe in Berlin, and I didn't know him. He was so thin and white. He's been hitting the pace too. Smoking and drinking all the time. Dempsey took the little out of him that he had."

"Cruijk is the best fighter over there, but I don't believe he can beat Kilbane. Those fellows over there don't like to take it the way they will have to when they box with Americans."

BOXERS IN CHALLENGING MOOD
Challenges and announcements of future fights were frequent at last night's boxing show.

Lloyd Ankut at the conclusion of the first four round bout issued a challenge to either one of the two lads who fought a good draw. George Alexander quickly sent word out from his dressing room that he was ready for Ankut anytime the bout could be arranged. Ankut has appeared here on light cards, but it was some months ago.

Nub Part then climbed into the ring and announced he would challenge the winner of the Kid Lucky and Jack Mitchell bout. The boys fought a draw and Part has the choice of two boys, either one of which will prove hard for Nub who has not had the ring experiences of Mitchell or Lucky.

Early Howell, who met Nig Blair here sometime ago, was introduced and he issued a challenge to anyone of his weight in this section. Jack Wolf was at the ringside last night and announced that he is to fight the main go at Chillicothe this evening, with Bugler Johnson of Columbus. The pair fought ten rounds to a draw in the Capital City several weeks ago, and Jack had a broken hand. He expects to put the Bugler away tonight, and said he is in fine shape for their setto.

RIGGERT IS VALUABLE PLAYER
ST. PAUL, MINN., May 29.—Joe Riggert, veteran outfielder of the St. Paul club of the American Association, playing his twelfth season with the Salts, is one of the most valuable men on the club, according to Manager Mike Kelly.

During the spring training trip there was much conversation about Riggert, due largely to the fact that no one, except Riggert, himself, had a very definite idea as to his age. Among the ball players his age was variously estimated as "anywhere from 34 to 60."

Great care should always be used as to playing the proper ball. If a player has the right to ask for advice in doubt as to the direction of play, his caddy is usually able to give the proper direction. In big matches, players are very particular about their caddies and often talk over shots with them before playing.

BILL SQUIRES' CAREER MOST UNIQUE IN RING

Many odd records have been hung up in the ring. Some bordered on the sensational while others really were pathetic.

Perhaps one of the most unique was Joe Grimm's. Grimm, the "man who couldn't be knocked out," probably got in the way of more punches than any man who ever stepped inside the roped arena.

But Joe couldn't be stopped. With him it wasn't a question of winning but whether he could last through the bout without getting a kayo wallop. Joe surely was in a class by himself.

And there wasn't ever anybody hanging around to dispute his position, either.

But how about old Bill Squires, the lanky Australian heavyweight? Unlike Grimm, the "deacon" didn't enter the ring to be a punching bag. Nevertheless, Bill's regime was a queer one. He won all his first 10 bouts, save one, by the knockout route.

Then he grew too ambitious and came over to this country in search of fame. And he got it without hunting very long.

July 4, 1908, he met Tommy Burns for the world's championship. One good punch was all Burns landed. It came in the first round. And it proved sufficient to send Squires into Dreamland.

After that the Antipodean was in nine battles. In all but one of them he was knocked out. His lone victory was over Jim Roche, who took the count in the fourth round at Dublin.

Turns twice kayoed Squires in 1908. Whereupon Bill decided to beat it back home.

In his last four bouts Bill Lang, another Australian, always put him to sleep. The final match went only five rounds.

Thus did Bill Squires, after starting out like a world beater with nine "slumber" punches in his first 10 battles, do a complete reverse by being floored for the count in all but one of his last 10 bouts.

Surely Bill Squires' ring career ranks as one of the oddest in pugilism.

BLACK AND WHITE
Black velvet hats, cravats trimmed, are the favorites now in the shop windows. Black fur jackets are worn with white broadcloth costumes and white fur coats are frequently seen with black velvet outfits. The black and white combination has replaced the all-black idea of a season ago.

Dempsey Works Out With Little Fellows

GREAT FALLS, MONT., May 29.—Jack Dempsey confined the training at his camp here yesterday largely to making the little fellow among his sparring partners, miss. In the speediest bout the champion has been seen in since he began training for his bout with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, July 4. Billy Wells, the English welter-weight champion, set a furious pace through two rounds. Dempsey once caught Wells on the jaw with a left uppercut and sprang him on the canvas. He helped Wells to his feet and thereafter made no effort to hit him. He took all Wells had and brought cheers from the crowd by the frequency with which he made the English champion miss. Dempsey's work with his heavy sparring partners was somewhat slower. His underlip was running a trickle of blood when he left the ring. It first showed when he was boxing with George Godfrey, the negro heavyweight. Dempsey went ten rounds with his sparring partners, the longest session since he began training. He will leave here today on a fishing trip of several days.

Beginner Should Hit Ball Before Turf

By Mike Brady
Western Open Champion
While the golf beginner may have plenty of trouble trying to hit the ball at all, especially when he is trying to make a full swing, it is just as well from the time of first taking up the game to try to acquire the habit of hitting the ball before hitting the ground, particularly with the mashie.
That is the general way of obtaining back-swing and in these modern days, when courses are so thoroughly guarded, it is almost obligatory to have backspin to get anywhere in the competition ranks as well as to get the most enjoyment out of the game.
It is palling for one man to see his playing companion or opponent stick a ball on a green and see it hit the ball.
The club has hit the ball on the down stroke and as the ball passes over the face of the club it is set to spinning, whence comes the bite when the ball lands.
Far too many golfers hit the ground first and that is the chief reason why so many mashie shots are topped—because the blade is rising when it hits the ball.

Boston Deal Still Hanging Fire

BOSTON, May 28.—The Boston American League Club may have been sold to a Columbus, O., syndicate, but it has the city called home does not know about it. The syndicate at this time for transfer of the property of the American League club from Frisco to the Columbus syndicate. Later this was said to involve a minor transaction in connection with the club.
An article appeared yesterday in later editions of a Boston evening paper to the effect that application had been made to the assessor of the city for the transfer of the property of the American League club from Frisco to the Columbus syndicate. Later this was said to involve a minor transaction in connection with the club.

Giants Copped Every Game Last Week

NEW YORK, May 29.—New York Giants, continuing their heavy hitting attacks behind excellent pitching, won through last week's games without a loss and climbed to a higher percentage in the pennant race. Their fourth straight victory over the dodging Phillies yesterday was their eighth consecutive triumph.
In the American League the Yankees, after nine successive victories, found the most stubborn opposition of the season in the Athletics, to whom they lost two of three sparkling contests. The champions won the third game in an 11-inning struggle and gained back some of the ground lost at Philadelphia by defeating the Washington club yesterday while the Athletics were idle.
Pittsburgh continued climbing in the National, losing but one game during the week, while the Cardinals, slumping from heavy batting form, could account for only one victory. Brooklyn's week was profitable. Cincinnati, after six straight losses, turned to the winning column yesterday against the Cardinals. The Phillies failed to win a game.

Despite their two victories over the Yankees, the Athletics lost ground in the American, breaking even in games won and lost, while the champions were winning a majority of their contests. Speaker's Indians gained ground, while Detroit and the Browns slipped. Chicago, Washington and Boston were the heaviest losers.

The week's record in each major league of games won and lost, with runs, hits and errors, including the games of Saturday, May 26, follows:

NOT SWEEPING THE EARTH

COLLIER'S WEEKLY is taking a direct personal poll of its million subscribers on their presidential preferences. We have the word of the Weekly itself that it is non-partisan in politics and fair and honest in the poll. The latter qualities we are not denying, but while it may be non-partisan it has manifested a decided fondness for Harding. However, let that go.

The poll shows so far that Harding is not a popular favorite. In fact it places him in the rather humiliating light of being decidedly unpopular in his own party. Over 54,000 preferences have been recorded. Of these Harding receives only 13,080, or some less than one-fourth of the total. Going more into detail the data shows he is making a sorry showing within his own party. For other Republicans, proposed in opposition to him, show a vote that amounts to making him a fifty-fifty choice, since Borah, Johnson, Hoover, Hughes, LaFollette, Johnson and other Republicans get 13,060 combined. While if we count the Ford vote as half Republican, which it more than likely is, or more the party rejection of him would have casted practically 20,000 ballots.

By the same token, counting his support as evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans, Henry Ford would be the Democratic favorite by a small plurality, as he is selected by an aggregate of 12,378 voters. McAdoo is second with 5,092 and Cox is next with 4,233.

Wilson gets 425 on the Democratic side while Taft polls one single, solitary supporter. Another oddity is that Bryan gets an even 16.

The canvas is being taken all over the country and doesn't show any marked difference as to preferences, except that Harding gets by far the smallest ratio of votes on the Pacific slope.

NOT EXACTLY PLEASING

AN economic scheme now being considered by the administration is the consolidation of the railroads of the country into fewer systems.

It is accepted as a fact that the railroads have seen mighty lean years since the war, but to ordinary understanding it is not apparent how grouping them into few and larger combinations is going to improve matters for them at all.

Their loss of earning capacity isn't because they are too short or too numerous, but springs out of divers other causes, loss of patronage, higher wages and legislative impediments. The first of these is the loss of patronage. That loss comes about through the coming into general use of the automobile and the truck. Before these engines of demoralization and destruction became common everybody who wanted to travel a few miles took a train. Now he backs out the lizzie and lets her go. If a bit of merchandise was to be shipped to the next town it was consigned to the tender mercies of a freight car. Now millions of tons are transported hundreds of miles every day by trucks.

Yes it is a condition the railroads are up against and a consolidation isn't going to help them out of it largely. Besides we do not like this thing of consolidation for itself. To us our railroads are institutions, things of life and fondness. We don't want to see the Norfolk and Western merged into the Pennsylvania and lose its identity and name any more that we want to see the picturesque Chesapeake and Ohio absorbed in whole by the Nickle Plate, not liking the name Nickle Plate a little bit.

Wojciechowski, the Polish premier, has resigned. The wonder is how a person of such a name ever happened to get into a cabinet to resign.

All things come round if one but waits. The Cincinnati Reds have won a game.

Tell you that village of Lucasville is coming. A new bank and a new flour and cereal mill will give her something of a city air. But while we wish her all sorts of prosperity we admire her so much as a village that we would look regretfully upon her passing out of that estate.

They have a big scandal on hand at Columbus over the supply of trucks the government gave the state. More evidence of the demoralizing effect of the automobile.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 29.—The illusion of the theatre is great. In "Rain" there is a constant rainfall during the entire three acts of the play. When the audience files out into the clear summer evening it is mystified.

Shredded umbrella peddlars realizing this have actually sold umbrellas in the lobby to members of the audience. There is another audacious play where one of the leading players is slowly freezing to death in an Alaskan wilderness.

There are howling winds and heavy snows. On the hottest nights—and it is a close warm theatre—the audience complains of chill if any of the exit doors are opened. One never sees a fan in motion.

It may be a species of press agency but the story is told of a scene in "The Fool" where a young crippled girl throws away her crutches as the result of the miracle of faith healing.

A rheumatic old man who sat in one of the front rows one evening left between the acts without the two walking sticks that had been used for years. When he reached the lobby he missed them—and then hastily limped back after them. He did not walk out with a limp.

In a Bronx playhouse recently a stock company was playing a performance where the heroine is a Russian cast-off and she simulated a cough. It was so natural it had to be deleted for the lines could not be heard for the audience was coughing along with her.

Another case of auto-suggestion is reported in a vaudeville skit where an acrobatic turn consists of a troupe of whirling dervishes. They spun about so much it was withdrawn. The spinning made the audience light-headed.

Earl Benham, one of the early motion picture stars, has opened up a tailoring establishment in midtown. In his seven days he was considered one of the nicest dressers in screen-dom.

The King Tut influence has invaded the Cafe Belt. An Egyptian room decorated by Richard D'Asis has been opened for Gilda Gray at her supper club. It introduces, incidentally, the first ebony black dance floor.

Miss Gray is carried to the center of the dance floor in the replica of an Egyptian tomb and, after bare-legged girls make a few incantations, the tomb opens and she steps out in a winding silver cloth shroud.

Ends of it are seized by the dancing girls and unwound, so Miss Gray is revealed in about a nickel's worth of tights and six beads. Following this she essays a few shimmy shivers that would no doubt please Tut himself.

For evening gaities the young bloods are wearing white linen spats which they remove before dancing. It is a custom that comes from Regent street and is for the fellow who is temperamentally a precisian. It takes only one or two to trumpet a vogue and then it sweeps among the fashionable exquisites like wildfire. Another fringe conceit I have noticed is black kid gloves for evening instead of the conventional white. And too, a cute little white knobbed swagger stick which may be slipped in the great coat pocket when it is checked.

In Flanders Fields

(By Lieut. Col. John McCrea)
In Flanders fields the poppies grew
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing fly,
Scarcely heard amid the guns below.

We are dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, but now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch. Be yours to lift it high!
If we break faith with who die here
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Sweet Charity

A big burly man called at the rectory and when the door was opened he asked to see the rector's wife. A woman well known for her charitable impulses.

"Madame," he addressed her in a broken voice, "I wish to draw your attention to the terrible plight of a poor family in this district. The father is dead, the mother is too ill to work and the nine children are starving. They are about to be turned into the cold, cold streets unless someone pays their arrears in rent, which amounts to fifty dollars."

"How terrible!" exclaimed the lady. "May I ask who you are?"
The sympathetic visitor applied his handkerchief to his eyes.
"I'm the landlord," he sobbed.

Wise Jottings

Reputation is sometimes more valuable than character.

A cynic is a man who laughs at the world with tears in his eyes.

No matter what you say, we say it is advisable to be careful what you say.

Many a man's failure is due to his having aimed too high with a short-range gun.

A man who never turns to look at a pretty woman is a fit subject for the undertaker.

It is all right for a woman to help her husband and many a girl helps her sweetheart even to propose.

Reversible

Teacher—"What is a geyser?"
Pupil—"A waterfall going up."

Life.

Partners in Peril

Fare—"Say, driver, not so fast—this is my first trip in a taxi."

Driver—"Mine, too."—Sydney Buletin.

Some People Think That—

AWOL means America Without Liquor.

S. O. L. means Save Our Liberty.

I. D. R. means Individuals' Drinks Restricted.

Liquid fire is bootleg hooch.

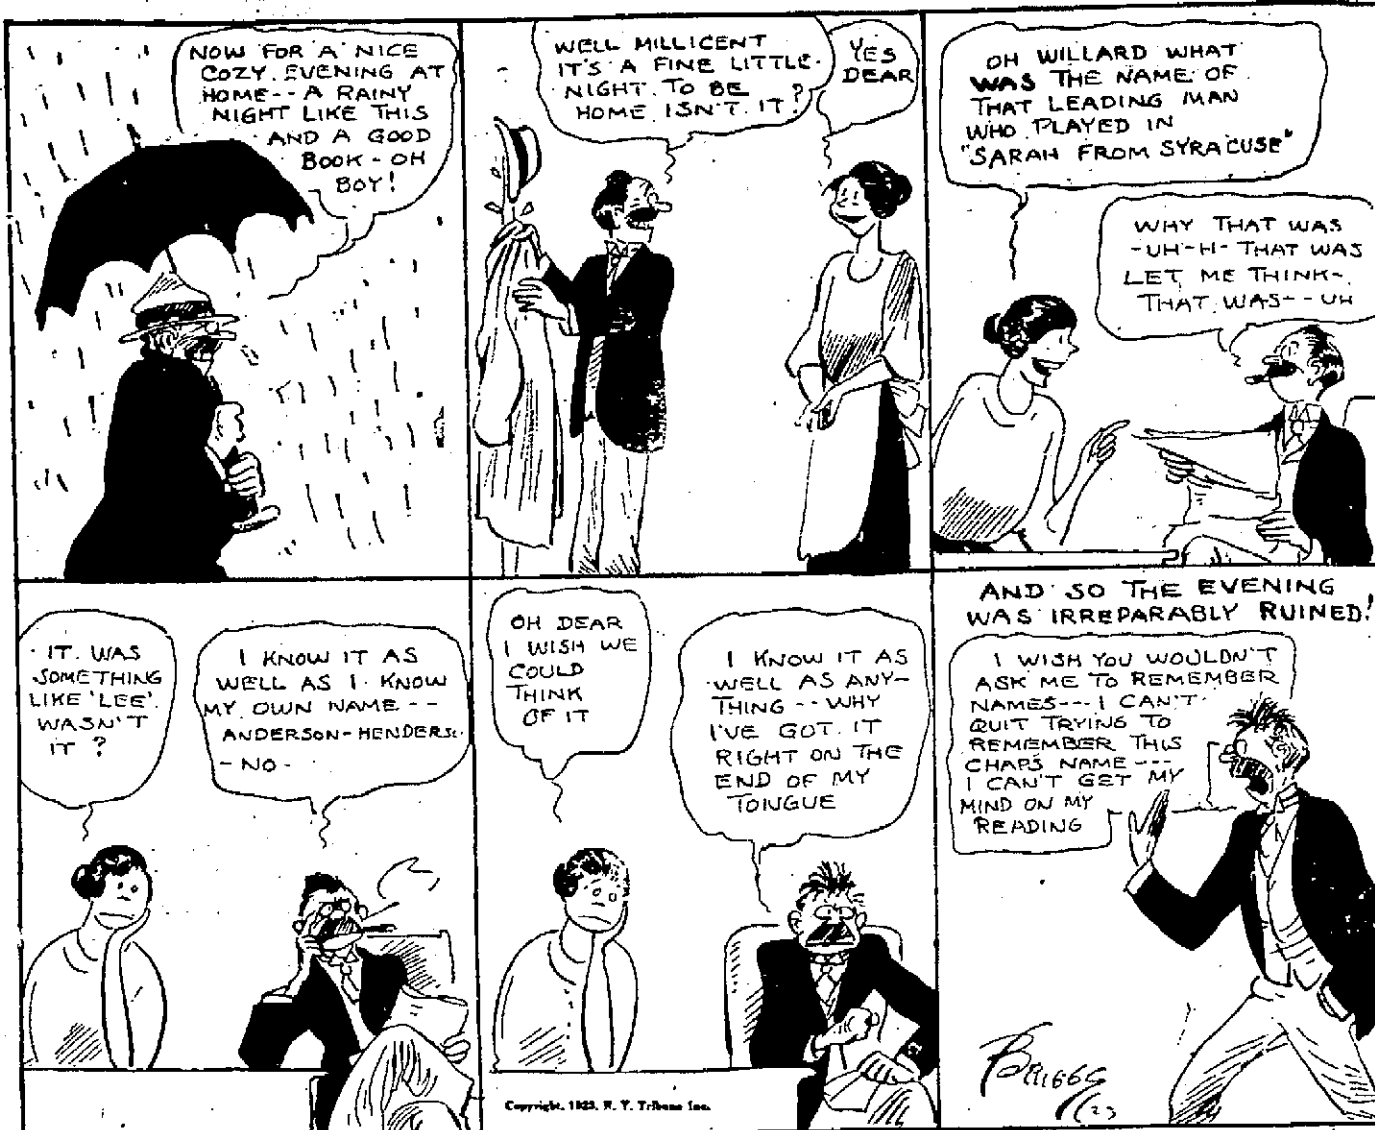

Dum-dums are wife's best biscuits.

An Easier Job

It was being made clear to the lady juror that she must say nothing—must talk to positively nobody—while serving.

"Oh, judge," she cried, bursting into tears, "can't I be a witness instead?"

HOW TO START THE EVENING WRONG — BY BRIGGS

All Fixed
Husband—"My dear, these seeds you've ordered won't flower until the second summer."
Wife—"Oh, that's quite all right. This is a last year's catalogue."—Punch (London).

Compliment
Judge: "You are charged with making whisky."
Prisoner: "Oh, you flatterer!"

On Equal Terms
A rookie who had been assigned to the Cavalry much against his will approached the sergeant and remonstrated.
"Say," he objected, "I never rode a horse in my life."
"Oh, that's all right," countered the sergeant easily. "We've got a horse that's never been ridden in his life. We'll start you two off together."

Not In Her Set
He—"What do you say to a tramp in Richmond Park?"
She—"I never speak to them!"—London Mail.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Matter Of Courses

By Bertion Braley

I'm off of pork. I'm off of beef.
I'm off of all potatoes.
I lunched upon a lettuce leaf.
I dine on stewed tomatoes.
But—gee, that tenderloin looks great.
I guess perhaps I'll try it.
Just put a little on my plate.
It's awful hard to diet.

FRITTERS I really shouldn't touch.
Still one or two won't harm me.
Scalloped potatoes—they have such ability to charm me.
That maybe I'll try just a few.
They're fattening, I know, but who can stand a right diet?

ICE cream and coffee—no, uh no.
I wasn't well—I shouldn't.
Still as you seem to urge me so,
I'll take some—gosh, who wouldn't?
In fact, with no more ifs and buts,
Though doctors may deary it,
I'll go the route from soup to nuts:
Tomorrow I will diet.
